Township sewer project funded

By HARRY BARNES
Press-Record Staff Writer
The Four-Township sewer program for construction of sanitary and interceptor sewers in the unincorporated areas of the Quad-City area has been funded by the Illinois Environmental Protection Agency, authorities were informed early this week.

The funding will be for the 1975 fiscal year which begins July 1, 1975, according to word received by Walter "Dick" Sparks, chairman of the Four-Township sewer committee and supervisor of Chouteau Township. The project has been funded at 75 per cent of the total cost with Illinois state funds.

The plan calls for construction of sanitary lateral lines to serve Chouteau, Nameoki and Venice areas and interceptor sewers that will carry sewage to the Granite City secondary sewage treatment plant. The Granite City plant will treat the sewage on a fee basis paid by sewer users.

Edward J. Neuneu of the Sheppard, Morgan & Schwaab engineering firm which is preparing detailed working plans and specifications for the sewer project, said the notice of funding includes provision for filing a number of required documents to activate the grant.

"Our first step will be to acquire a Step Two grant which will take care of all of the preliminary work such as the preliminary planning, engineering and completion of detailed design work," Neuneu said.

"This must be done before we could receive any funds for construction work," he added. The Four-Township sewer program is sponsored by the Madison County Board which will have to approve a revenue bond issue to provide the local Summer vacations for Quad-City students are drawing to a close and public and parochial schools will reopen on Monday and Tuesday, Aug. 26 and 27.

Venice and Madison public schools will begin classes on Monday, Aug. 26, with half-day sessions, and start full-time classes on Tuesday, Aug. 27.

Madison kindergarten classes on opening day will be conducted from 9 a.m. to 11:30 a.m. for both morning and afternoon sessions. On the following morning sessions will be from 9 to 11:30 a.m. and afternoon classes from 12:40 to 3:10 p.m.

Students at all Madison elementary schools will attend from 8:45 a.m. to 11:30 a.m. on the first day from 8:45 a.m. to 3:15 p.m. thereafter.

have discussed potential sewer projects that will have to be paid by sewer users, but that they will not be made public immediately.

I said sewer bills for the township project "are certain to be higher than those rates paid by Granite Cityans" because we will have to pay for the sewers and at the same time pay Granite City for sewerage treatment.

Lightning during the storm was blamed as a contributing factor in a connection burning through which caused a primary electrical line to fall along Route 162, east of Lake Drive, in the Ponton Beach area, at 6:45 p.m. Monday.

About 50 homes were without electrical power until the line was repaired at 7:10 p.m.

Among the buildings minus electricity was the Nameoki Town Hall on Route 162, where the Nameoki Town Board of Auditors conducted its regular meeting in darkness for a 10-minute period before service was resumed.

An emergency repair crew dispatched by Illinois Power Co. was on the scene until after 9:30 p.m. Monday.

Granite City police reported the "switchboard" at headquarters was "jammed with calls reporting tornado sightings." The desk officer found it necessary to call officers into the station to help answer inquiries from worried citizens.

Among the oddities of the storm was the absence of any rain at Tri-City Speedway, 5100 Nameoki Road, while at Bowland Lanes, 5650 Nameoki Road, just a half-block away, torrents of rain lashed the building.

Tornado threatens area

By VALERIE EVENEDEN
Press-Record Staff Writer

A highly visible grayish-black funnel cloud swooped downward twice early Monday evening over the Quad-Cities, but fortunately the twister failed to touch ground and little damage resulted from its visit.

The cone-shaped cloud, trailing a long twisting tail, extended from a layered mass of dark clouds. Hundreds of local observers reported its outline as "very distinct and well defined."

Granite City police were notified at 5:03 p.m. Monday that a tornado had been sighted by the public and officers immediately activated the warning siren network throughout the city.

Sirens were sounded promptly in Madison, Venice and Ponton Beach. The U. S. Weather Service at Lambert-St. Louis International Airport confirmed the sightings of a funnel cloud and issued a tornado warning.

The funnel cloud moved into the area from the southwest, gathering momentum and mass enroute. Most observers fixed its hovering position high over the south and western sections of the city.

One man watching the cone's progress from 18th Street and Delmar Avenue said the stem of the tornado cloud slanted to the south for a brief time, then dipped sharply to the ground, reformed itself into a funnel and descended a second time dropping about 25 feet, or so it appeared from his vantage point.

"It was pretty high up and seemed to hover between downtown Granite City and the Army Installation property," he said.

At about 5 p.m. Monday, Mrs.

Edward Varble, 28 Victoria Drive, Ponton Beach, was hanging up, clothing in the bedroom of her home when she heard the village sirens sounding.

"I looked out of the window," she recalls, "and there was a funnel cloud just to the west of the house across Long Lake. It appeared to be lingering in one spot, so we just stood there and watched it."

Mrs. Varble noted there was a light rain falling at the time and very little wind. "After we watched it for a short time, the funnel disappeared into the clouds," she added.

A Madison man said he tracked the funnel as he was driving along Madison Avenue from Venice, but lost it when he reached 23rd Street.

Heavy rain, accompanied by thunder and lightning, did strike the Granite City area a short time later.

Robbed of $100

Stephen Schmalfeld, assistant manager at Burger-Chief Restaurant, 1118 Madison Ave., was robbed of $100 at 6:10 p.m. while he was outside at the rear of the restaurant building. Schmalfeld told police he was inspecting the trash disposal area when someone stuck a hard object to his back and said, "Give me your money."

Schmalfeld said he gave the man the money from his wallet and the robber got into a blue auto driven by a second man. The pair drove south on Madison Avenue.

The ruptures of Watergate and Vietnam have left festering sores in our national life. Chesterfield Smith, president of the 185,000-member American Bar Association, said at the opening of the 97th annual convention at Honolulu, Hawaii.

Smith said he is convinced the new administration of Gerald R. Ford will cleanse the wounds of Watergate, but that America will remain divided until it deals with "the ongoing tragedy" of punishment and exile for those who refused to fight in Vietnam out of a sincere belief it was wrong. "It is my personal hope that the American Bar Association will support full rehabilitation of the war resister," the ABA president said. A resolution proposing "earned immunity" for draft evaders in exchange for alternate service to the nation will be considered by the ABA's legislative body this week.

A mysterious firebombing during the weekend has resulted in $1,500 damage to the home where Mrs. Richard M. Nixon spent her girlhood at Cerritos, Calif. Police said they had neither motive nor suspects, but reported an unidentified flammable liquid was poured on the south wall of the recreation hall attached to the home. The dwelling stands in the center of a 4.4 acre historical park named for her and dedicated to children.

U. S. Sen. Adlai E. Stevenson III, (D-Illinois), said in St. Louis he would oppose immunity from prosecution for former President Richard M. Nixon. "Immunity or a amnesty must be left to the judicial process," Stevenson said. "Congress has no authority under the Constitution to grant it and I think it would be wrong to encourage it."

Organized labor has pledged support for the new President despite Gerald R. Ford's nearly solid anti-labor voting record in Congress. According to the AFL-CIO, President Ford voted "wrong" 109 times and "right" on only 10 occasions when it came to legislation favored by labor during his 25-year congressional career.

But with Ford assuming the presidency, organized labor's chief spokesman, George Meany, pledged on behalf of the 13.5 million-member AFL-CIO "all possible support in meeting the grave and serious problems the nation faces."

While the rain poured down during the opening days of the Illinois State Fair, many fairgoers were under a big striped tent pouring down another liquid. Officials estimate nearly 7,000 gallons of beer were sold during the first three days of the fair.

Two beer gardens were constructed on the fairgrounds when officials decided to resume beer sales this year for the first time in about 20 years.

A twister struck the Piasa Harbor area, west of Alton, Saturday afternoon, destroying a boat dock and sinking one boat. Shattered sections of the dock, together with tree limbs and debris, whirled in the center of the storm which churned up a 150-foot high water spout as the twister skipped along the river, witnesses said.

Charles W. Reed, 34, of Medora, was killed when lightning apparently glanced off the barrel of a gun carried by a companion in a hunting expedition in Jersey County during a violent electrical storm. Several funnel clouds were sighted in the Alton area Sunday.

The multi-colored silos also put a finishing artist's touch on what must be one of the most attractive industrial sites in the nation: the landscaped, spit-and-polish surface facilities at Eastern's Eastern Coal Company Keybank No. 5 Mine at Affinity, W. Va.

Creator of the silo art is one of America's most distinguished and versatile artists, Virgil D. Cantini, presently professor of studio arts and director of the University of Pittsburgh. Mr. Cantini was commissioned by Eastern to design the clear and raw coal silos and to suggest a design for the new mine. The result was a striking "rainbow" colors—red, black, orange, light blue, dark blue, lavender and purple.

Five commercial painters used about 550 gallons of paint—175 gallons of primer, 350 of white and 100 of color, to "white—in transferring Cantini's design from scale model to the mine, which then combined exterior surface and landscape features.

"I was intrigued with the idea of using the silos as art in the mine. It was a challenge to me by Eastern's late Chairman, Eli Goldston. The mine was an entirely new and different experience for me," Cantini says.

"Mr. Goldston had a flair and feeling for people and places. I shared with him the feeling that beauty does not have to be related to nature. Why can't it be in a man-made place? People can walk or play? I honestly believe that art does subconsciously affect the human spirit. Through color and shapes I tried to depict a new world."

Goldston was born in Italy in 1920, and grew up in the steel town of Weirton, West Virginia. His father worked in the mills. He played football and worked in the steel plant before earning a Bachelor of Fine Arts degree from Carnegie Institute of Technology in 1946, and a Master of Science from the University of Pittsburgh in 1948. He has been a member of the faculty of the University of Pittsburgh since 1952 and is now a professor and chairman of studio arts and art education.

The artist is noted primarily for his work in enamel (porcelain) and recently completed a series of murals for the University of Pittsburgh. He has been a frequent exhibitor at the Associated Artists of Pittsburgh Annual Exhibitions where his work has been a total of 15 prizes and has been invited many times to exhibit at the International Art Exhibition at Carnegie Museum in 1958.

Cantini was awarded a Guggenheim Fellowship for study and travel to Europe; Italy, France, Germany, Spain, Belgium and Switzerland.

The striking design for the silos and 200,000 gallon water storage tank was part of an extensive beautification program. The mine has planted 80 trees and 100 shrubs near the multi-million dollar water tank and has such an environmental protection system that uses 100-foot cement filter tanks to filter water and a sludge pond to clarify the water, preventing nearby streams from becoming turbid.

The new plantings include pine, oak and birch trees along the creek area of the road. The new mine has juniper shrubs at both the plant and parking areas. The new mine has planted plant buildings, 12 acres of hillside and a new crop of grass seeded by a local farmer.

Cantini joins in praise of Eastern for its conservation of the environment. He is impressed by the massive landscape and the beauty of the mine and this, coupled with the art work for the silos and water tank, showed me that the company has a very high professional respect for people who are working in the mines," he said. "It was refreshing to see that the company was making an effort to make the whole day a livable day for its employees. This coal mine is more than just a place for people to work, but to enjoy, by both employees and visitors."

Coal from Eastern's Keybank No. 5 mine is shipped to the Pocahontas No. 3 searoom, which is premium quality, low sulfur, low ash, low sulfur, low ash. When in full operation, the mine will ship 600,000 tons of coal.

The mine has a design capacity of 500,000 tons per day, or 180,000 tons per shift. It produces clean coal. One half of the mine's production is sold for use in the steel industry. The other half is sold to public-private steel production companies, under a 20-year contract.

Proposes 'Little Hoover' commission

A "Little Hoover Commission" for Illinois, was proposed this week by Everett G. Steele, Republican candidate for state representative in the 56th District, who said such a "non-partisan" commission could result in savings of millions of dollars in the operation of our state government.

Wm. Lamb dies of gunshot

William Lamb, 57, of 2100 Willow Ave., was found dead in his bed at home at 3:35 p.m. Wednesday with a bullet wound to the left side of his chest. A gun was found near his body. He was declared dead at the scene at 3:45 p.m. by Madison County Deputy Coroner Edward Werner.

Mr. Lamb, who suffered a heart ailment, had called a friend, Mrs. Elizabeth Green, 2533 Sheridan Ave., to his home, asking her to help him with a few things.

She said he was in the living room while she picked up several things and then went to the bedroom. She said she inquired if he felt well and he was reported to have said, "I want to leave. I don't want to live anymore," according to the report to police.

Mrs. Green said she talked to him a few minutes and then went to the kitchen to let Mr. Lamb's dogs outside. She went into the back yard with the dogs and heard a thud from the bedroom, followed by a loud bang, she related.

She returned to the bedroom to find Mr. Lamb on his right side in bed with blood on his left chest. She called police. Officers found a .38-caliber pistol near Mr. Lamb's body. The slug was believed to have passed through his body, through the mattress and box springs, bounced off the floor and was found on the floor near the base of the bed.

Mr. Lamb had been ill for 28 years. A native of Illinois, he had resided in East St. Louis prior to moving to this area 18 years ago.

He retired in 1962 as a security guard at the Granite City Army Installation where he worked for 18 years. Mr. Lamb was a member of the Christian Church in Farmer City, Ill., and belonged to the VFW Post 1300, Granite City, Ill., and the American Legion Post 307, Disabled American Veterans Chapter One, St. Louis. He also was a special deputy for the Granite City Police Auxiliary and an associate member of the Madison County Police Association and a member of the Madison County Civil Defense.

Survivors include his wife, Mrs. Edna Lamb; two brothers, Jesse Lamb and Vernell Lamb, both of Farmer City; three sisters, Mrs. Ray (Lola) Chamberlain of Decatur, Ill., Mrs. Arlo (Angeline) Reynolds of Farmer City and Mrs. Victor (Louise) Saraglio, Waukegan. Funeral arrangements are given in the obituary column.

ment. "The legislation I propose," Steele said, "would be modeled after the 'Hoover Commissions' of the 1950's, which served with outstanding success at both the state and national level to analyze governmental operations and to promote economy, efficiency and improved service for the people."

"In the past five years," Steele said, "state spending in Illinois has been tripled. Our state budget has grown from $2 billion to over $7 billion in this short period of time. Such rapid growth necessarily brings with it a certain amount of inefficiency, duplication and overlapping of services. The legislature recently abolished four departments in the executive branch, which they felt served overlapping and unnecessary functions. But this is a 'piece-meal' approach to a much greater problem."

"In these days of inflation," the Glen Carbon Republican continued, "with many families caught in a 'price-squeeze,' the public has a right to expect full value for their tax dollars. A more efficient operation of our state government would result in both savings and increased services for the people of Illinois."

"President Ford has called for economy in Federal spending," Steele continued, "I believe the need is long overdue," he declared, "to bring economy to the operation of our state government, through the establishment of another 'Hoover Commission.' I intend to press for the establishment of such a 'non-partisan' commission, which could result in many millions of dollars saved for the people of our state," Steele concluded.

Resignations shuffle governor's cabinet

Resignations and major rearrangements among several top officials in Illinois Gov. Dan Walker's state cabinet were announced Wednesday.

Gov. Walker named James L. Trainor, 39, a former assistant to the mayor of Detroit, as director of public aid, replacing Joel Edelman, who resigned Tuesday.

Mrs. Mary Lee Leahy, 34, a Walker assistant, and an attorney, was named director of Children and Family Services, replacing Jerome Miller. Walker said Miller would work on new state programs to prevent juvenile delinquency. Robert B. Wilcox, 52, a Chicago lawyer, was named director of the Department of Insurance. He replaces Fred Mauck, who also resigned. Ronald E. Stackler, 35, an assistant director in the state insurance department, was appointed director of the Department of Registration and Education, succeeding Dean Barringer who resigned.

Peter A. Kotors, 42, assistant director of registration and education, was named chairman of the Parole and Pardon Board, replacing Joseph J. Longo. Longo was named assistant director of the Department of Law Enforcement.

Gov. Walker told a news conference that no one was asked to quit. He said it was coincidence "in a sense" that all of the changes came at the same time.

"This is a very ordinary thing to have happen in any administration," Gov. Walker said. He denied that Edelman left the public aid department in a dispute over budget cuts after heading the department since June 1973.

In his letter of resignation, handed Tuesday to Gov. Walker, the former PA director said, "If ever I can be of personal service to you, do not hesitate to call on me."

But, according to informed sources, Edelman was upset with Walker's veto of a 10 per cent cost-of-living increase approved by the General Assembly for public aid recipients.

Edelman also reportedly was unhappy with Walker's plan to take $800,000 of the Public Aid Department's $1.5 billion budget to help fund the new Governor's Action Office. The office replaces the Governor's Office of Human Resources which the legislature tried to eliminate.

Last July, Edelman and Walker were criticized when they announced a computerized crackdown on welfare cheaters.

More criticism was leveled at Edelman when the state began a flat grant system of welfare payments last October.

Truck, train crash on 20th

A National Steel Corp. diesel engine crashed into the side of a tractor-trailer, driven by David Seyler, Collinsville, at 9:29 a.m. Tuesday at the 20th Street crossing near Omaha Street. William Hamilton, 2817 Herbert St., was engineer of the train. The train's front caught between the tractor and trailer and dragged the truck about 30 feet west before stopping. There were no injuries. Both the truck and railroad engine were damaged.

Soybean plant opens tomorrow

Minor mechanical difficulties caused a one-day delay in the start of operations at the new Archer Daniels Midland Co. soybean processing plant on Cargill Road.

The plant was to have begun production today, but officials said this morning that a "shake down" of equipment was continuing and that they hoped to begin actual production of soybean meal and oil tomorrow morning.

Post 307, Merchants place in state event

Venice-Madison American Legion Post 307 captured runner-up honors and the Granite City Merchants team finished fourth during the weekend in the Illinois Amateur Softball Association Men's Class AA slow-pitch state tournament at Rockford, Ill.

Post 307 posted a tourney win-loss record of 5-2 after falling by a score of 7-2 in the championship game to the Old Pros of East St. Louis.

The Merchants had a 6-2 tourney record and lost its bid for third place by losing 8-3 to a Pekin team.

The two local squads produced four players for the all-state first team selection. Post 307 all starters are: James Rains, outfield (four homers, 13 RBI's and .563 batting average in the event, who also was chosen as the tournament's most valuable player; Charlie Collins, shortstop, (12 RBI's, .573 batting average); and Roger Cookley, pitcher (won four games, allowed three runs per game). The Merchants all-star was Greg Patton, outfield (14 homers, 14 RBI, batted .667).

THE OTHER SIDE OF GUY MCCLURE—Shy off the track but a real terror to fellow motorcycle competitors every week during the American Motorcycle Association sanctioned cycle racing program at Tri-City Speedway, McClure of Texas, holds a slim lead over Oklahoma's Randy Cleek in the point standings here after Tuesday's events.

Door start costs Texan win in race

Expressions of disappointment crossed the face of Granite City's McClure here Tuesday after he lost his bid for a fourth consecutive fifth of the season—feature race victory during the American Motorcycle Association sanctioned racing program at Tri-City Speedway.

"It was my own fault," commented the junior rider, "I got off to a bad start and had to play catchup."

McClure trailed the pack for the first three laps of the ten-lap event before weaving his way into third place, where he opened the finish line behind second-place cyclist John Hatley and the winner, California's Chuck Palmgren.

After posting the fastest qualifying time of 15.69 seconds around the quarter-mile dirt oval, McClure captured his best race and semi-main event, thus earning the right to compete in the feature.

Palmgren won his best race and semi event before leading the feature race from start to finish. Other race victors of the evening were: Oklahoma's Rince Cleek; Michigan's Ted Boddy; Texan Darryl Hurst; a Californian Ricky Hocking; Granite Cityan Cliff Wilkinson captured the consolation race. Cleek, who placed fourth behind McClure in the feature, closed the gap on the Texan's lead in the point standings.

Heading into next Tuesday's racing program, which begins at 7 p.m. with time trials and racing at 8 p.m., McClure has 21 points toward the season championship, Cleek has 20; Texan James Lee 15, and Michigan's Mike Gerald nine.

Carmody on ISU roster

Former Granite City High School football standout, Dave Carmody, has returned to the Illinois State University, Bloomington, 1974 fall football lineup as a junior.

Cocher Gerry Hart and the Redbird team have begun preparations for its Sept. 7 season opener against NCAA Division II champion, Louisiana Tech.

Hart and his staff will be assisted this year by former GCHS South football coach Wayne Williams. The former Warrior mentor assumes the position of offensive line coach for the ISU Redbirds.

1974 PEE WEE SOCCER CHAMPS. These seven to eight year-old youths comprise the Pelek Realty-soccer squad, which will carry their 7-0 season record into action Aug. 24 and 25 in the Cahokia Invitational Tournament. In Granite City Park District competition, the team emerged as division champion after scoring more than 60 goals against opposing teams while allowing only one goal to be scored against it. Front row from left are, Frank Soellner, Jim Yount, Phil Callis, George Gavlick, Steve Branding, Doug Elliott and Brent Cook. Middle row are, Gary Sikora, Darin Wylie, Darin Spalding, John Konkovich, Shane Cole, John Shane, Dave Baggett and John Michalek. At rear are Coach Bob Yount, team sponsor Leo Pelek, and Coach George Gavlick.

13 game schedule for Cougar kickers

An expanded soccer schedule for Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville has been announced by the Cougars' athletic director and soccer coach, Bob Guelker. The Cougar kickers will play 13 games instead of their usual 10, starting Saturday, Sept. 14, on the road against the Air Force Academy in Colorado.

Prior to the opening of the regular schedule, the Cougars will play a pair of exhibition games beginning with MacKenzie University of Sao Paulo, Brazil, Saturday, Aug. 31. On Sept. 7, the Cougar varsity will play an SIUE alumni squad.

Four new schools, including the Air Force, are on the SIUE soccer schedule. Other new opponents are Colorado College, the University of Alabama, Huntsville, and the University of Wisconsin, Milwaukee.

Heading the schedule, is one of the Cougars' toughest opponents, St. Louis University. SIUE will meet the Bills, national NCAA champions, in the final game on the schedule Tuesday night, Nov. 8, at Busch Stadium.

Last year, the two collegiate soccer powerhouses battled it out before more than 20,000 fans with the Cougars losing, 1-0. The best the Cougars have been able to do against St. Louis University in the series, which started in 1969, was a 1-1 tie three years ago in a regularly scheduled game, also played at Busch Stadium.

Coach Guelker and his kickers will host the third annual Illinois Universities Soccer Tournament Oct. 11 and 12. The three other state schools in the meet are Western, Northern and Eastern Illinois Universities.

Five of the Cougars' first six games will be on the road, and their first home contest will be at St. Paul of Highland (V&JV) 4 p.m.

University of Akron, comes calling. All the rest of the games, but one (University of Wisconsin, Milwaukee), will be at Cougar Field.

Muddy arena fails to halt Trailriders

Muddy conditions during the weekend at the Trailriders arena on Chouteau Slough Road, near Rock Road, slowed speed events to some extent, but failed to halt contests at the fourth "Point Show" to be sponsored this season by the Trailriders Saddle Club of Granite City.

The club plans a campout, trailride and fish fry for members on Saturday.

On Saturday, Aug. 24, the fifth and final point show will take place. The latter event is open to the public, starting at 6:30 p.m. Admission is free and refreshments are available on the arena grounds, according to Ginger Bowman, club secretary.

First place winners in last weekend's show were: Pam Weldon, pony poles and pony pleasure, riding Wishbone; Don James Jr., pony barrels, riding Nellie; Gary Dalton, halter division; geldings, Sargent Hobby; Jerry Angle, haltering division; mares.

James Bluse, footrotting and gaited country pleasure, Rocky; Patty Bryar, senior western pleasure, Wimpy's Daybell; Marcia Brach, senior bareback pleasure, Granny; Renee Townsend, junior bareback, pleasure, Rocky Joe.

Need Rascals players

Players still are needed to complete the rosters of the two Granite City Rascals midge division football teams. The Midge teams will consist of boys weighing 115 pounds or less during the season and who have not reached the age of 13 by Sept. 2 of this year and also 13-year-old boys who weigh 100 pounds or less.

Bob Patrick, president of the Rascals, said that this is a very good opportunity for boys to learn the basic fundamentals of football and sportsmanship. The program is highly recommended by many area high school coaches for any boy who has the desire to later participate in football at the high school level.

Boys in the sixth and seventh grades who are planning to tryout for their local junior high school eighth grade football teams in the future could increase their chances of making the team with the experience of playing league games in the Tri-County Jr. Football Conference, Patrick said. This year more than 2,400 boys from 15 nearby Illinois communities are participating in the tackle football league.

The league also offers the smaller eighth grade football player a chance to compete against players close to his own weight. Last year, football letters were awarded to all eighth grade players in the Rascals program.

Candidates for the Granite City midge teams should report this Saturday at 10 a.m. at the Coolidge football field or call the midge coaches—Don Kirksey at 876-2646 or Dave Cooper at 931-3854.

Braves win 2, final game tonight

The Granite City Braves will carry their 29-12 first-year season record onto the baseball field tonight against the Mississippi Khouxy League Champions, the Hazelwood Kirby Classics, in a 6 p.m. contest at Wilson Park. The game will be the season finale for the Braves.

Tuesday, the local line defeated the Mathews-Dickey Cubs 3-2, and last night they went on the warpath to defeat a team of Park League All-Stars, 13-2.

Against the Cubs, Rick Fancer picked up his seventh win of the season against two losses as he pitched his way out of several bad jams. The Braves moved on top in scoring in the third inning as Keith Champion reached first on an error, then stole second. Champion scored as Ed Schmidt's hard smash handcuffed the opposing shortstop momentarily.

The Braves upped the score to 2-0 in the fourth as Mark Damon reached first on an error and stole second. Damon scored from second as a pickoff play backfired and the ball got past the centerfielder.

The Braves scored the final and winning run in the sixth. Ed Schmidt singled and stole second. Tom Manogian walked and Randy Lyster sacrificed, moving the runner to second and Schmidt then scored on a wild pitch.

Last night, the Braves scored three in the first, two in the second, then took a 6-0 lead in the fifth, as they handily baptized the younger park team to junior division baseball.

Tom Manogian spearheaded the Braves' 16-hit attack with a perfect four for four night, while scoring three times. Larry Schleicher picked up his sixth win against two defeats. Braves Manager Ron Madden said, "Win or lose today, I feel the Braves have represented their city well in their first year existence."

New coaches for golf

This spring, Granite City High School South cast the only dissenting vote on an Illinois High School Association (IHSA) proposal that high school golf be switched from a spring activity to a fall sport.

Nine other schools outvoted South during a Southwest Conference meeting of league principals and athletic directors held here.

The statewide season change was completed by the IHSA and now both Granite City high schools will begin their fall programs on Sept. 13.

This season also will mark a change in golf mentors at GCHS South and GCHS North. Heading the program for the North Steelers will be former Warrior golf coach Harry Lane.

At the helm of the South team will be first-year coach Fred Schuman.

Lane headed the Warrior program for five years before resigning his position at the end of the 1973 season to accept a teaching position that fall at the new North high school.

Schuman, a 1961 graduate of South High and presently a social studies instructor there, is new to the high school coaching scene.

"Rhythm and timing are the keys to being a good golfer," said the man who succeeded former Coach Wayne Williams. Williams resigned this year from the Granite City school system.

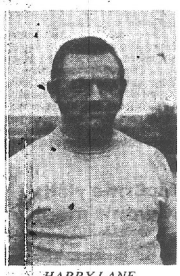

"You don't have to be big and powerful to perform well, I would rather have a youngster who is inexperienced so that I can teach him the ropes."

Schuman said he encourages inexperienced students to try their skills in the sport, "both boys and girls." This is the first year the varsity squad is open to both sexes.

Schuman is a native of Granite City and is married to

Jones sweeps 3rd race

Last night at Tri-City Speedway, at the conclusion of the third super-sprint racing program on the half-mile dirt oval, one fan asked track owner Elvis Doolin, "Does Bubby Jones own an interest in your speedway? He drives here as if he owns the place."

Jones does not own the local racing plant, but he certainly owns the track's Victory Lane after giving a repeat performance of the other two sprint car racing events held here this year.

The Danville, Ill., driver pushed his car to a 27.0 second one lap time to take top honors in qualifying runs. Butch Wilkinson of Speedway, Ind., was second at 22.97 and Bill Uti, Sedalia, Mo., was third at 22.99.

Jones made a poor showing in the handicap event for the six fastest cars, finishing fifth. Cliff Cockrum of Benton won that event.

In the first 10-lap heat race, Cockrum again showed the way to the finish line with Jones placing second.

But the 35-lap feature race belonged to Jones. He started on the inside pole position and led the event from start to finish with Uti second and Lincoln, Nebraska's Roger Rager third.

Wilkinson was victorious in the second heat race event and Gary Scott took the consolation race. The double-header racing program saw Granite City sportsman class driver Jack Yates weave his way through traffic to win the 20-lap main event on the smaller quarter-mile track. Granite Cityans Denny Colletti and Rod Bailey were second and third, respectively.

Sportsman class heat race victors were Colletti and Pat Walsh of Ballwin, Mo.

Picnic today

The Steele Booster Club of Granite City High School North was to conduct a coach-athlete picnic at 4 p.m. today at the Arlington Heights Golf Course.

Mrs. Gerry Gavlik, club president and picnic chairwoman, said the event originated as an informal way for the school's coaches and athletes to become better acquainted, and to introduce incoming freshmen with the various sport programs at the high school.

Swimming, golfing and a variety of games were to be followed beginning at 4 p.m., followed by a dinner at 6 p.m.

night late model and sportsman class stock car racing. To add spice to tomorrow evening's program, Promoter Ed Bloom has scheduled a 10-lap "powder-puff derby" for the ladies on the quarter-mile dirt track.

Competition on the outer half-mile oval will see Spalding, the defending late model track champion, attempting to overtake the 170 point lead Missouri's Len Gittenberger has over Spalding's 1,465.

Russ Wallace of Arnold, Mo., holds down the third spot with 1,385 points.

In sportsman class racing on the smaller track, St. Louis John Wolmeier, who has never captived a feature race here, heads the pack with 1,000 points.

Granite Cityan Rod Bailey is Jack Yates, is third with 730 points.

With 120 points being awarded to the victor of feature races and 60 points to the winner of heat races, the point standings could change in both divisions tomorrow.

The stock car racing program will begin at 7:30 p.m. Friday with qualifying time-trials for late model cars: Heat races for both classes will get under way at 8:30 p.m.

Petrillo squad represents state

The Petrillo Produce women's sole-pitch softball team, which won the state championship last year, will represent Illinois in the Women's Region 24 Chicago Amateur Softball Association double-elimination tournament at St. Charles, Ill.

The victor of the tourney, which begins tomorrow and ends Sunday, will advance to a national tournament to be held Aug. 30-Sept. 2 at Elk Grove, Cal.

Petrillo recently captured its second consecutive state softball title at Caseyville after defeating the Collinsville Comanches 5-2, in the finals. The Collinsville team also will compete in the regional tournament this weekend by virtue of being the state runner-up.

Competition at St. Charles will begin tomorrow with the host team, the Fox Valley Lassies, meeting Asche's, the Milwaukee, Wis., runner-up. The victor of that contest then will meet Petrillo Produce at 1:30 a.m. Saturday.

Defending regional champion, Stretch Midget of Fond du Lac, Wis., will round out that day's competition by playing the Chicago runner-up.

Regional quarter-finals, semi-finals and championship game, will all be played Sunday.

Mercer hopes for revenge

Alton at Panama for a doubleheader and Livingston at Piasa. League leading Troy drew a bye.

The Mercer nine of the Illinois Inter-City baseball league, will have a chance Sunday to avenge its 8-4 loss last night to Highland-Pierron. Mercer will play host to H-P Sunday for a 2 p.m. contest at Wilson Park.

The loss to H-P came after the contest had been rained out and rescheduled four times since July 26.

Mercer's manager, Wendell Corey, said "We allowed four unearned runs that accounted for our losing."

Other than Sunday's Mercer-Highland contest here, league games on tap that day are, East

North harrier practice set

Pete Robinson, second-year cross-country coach at Granite City High School North, has announced that pre-season practice sessions will be held twice a day, 9 a.m. and 4 p.m., starting Monday and continuing daily until North's opening dual meet.

Those wishing to compete this fall were asked to report for the first practice session Monday with a completed physical examination form and a written, and signed, letter of permission from a parent.

"Even with one year of experience behind us," said Robinson, "we still are going to be a very young team. We lost four seniors—Paul Shands, Pat Olson, Mark Becherer and Karl Ebrecht—through graduation, and one of our most promising juniors, Rick Morien, has other commitments."

"Thirty-four youths of the 55 who have expressed an interest in the sport have been running and keeping in shape throughout the summer on their own," he said.

The head mentor feels the 1974 Steele team will be supplemented by freshmen from Grigsby Junior High and last season's sophomores.

"As of now," said Robinson, "I feel we are about a year away from having a well-rounded, fully balanced cross-country team."

FACES TWO CHARGES
Jack Fry, 37, of 36 Kaseberg Park, Pontoon Beach, was arrested at 7:40 p.m. Monday in the 300 block of Wilson Park Lane and was charged with unlawful use of a weapon and disorderly conduct. A loaded .357 Magnum gun allegedly was found by police under a seat of his auto. Thomas Watts, Hazelwood, Mo., alleged Fry threatened him with the weapon.

Injunction malts drainage work

Work to enlarge a culvert under the Alton and Southern Railroad tracks just east of the Parkway Estates Subdivision by Carrell Road and Country Lane was halted about 3 p.m. yesterday by a restraining order obtained by a farm family who felt a larger culvert would flood their farm land.

Railroad workers started yesterday in the Mitchell area, installing larger culverts and completed several between Mitchell and the Parkway area, including one which was designed to aid Doherty Slough drainage.

When they prepared to start work on the Parkway area, they were met by several hostile landowners who did not want the culvert enlarged and by Parkway Estates residents who did want the work completed.

Joseph A. and Ethel Gieselmans, who own farm property east of the railroad tracks, had their attorney, Maurice Dailly, obtain a restraining order from Judge Moses Harrison. An unsealed copy of the restraining order was delivered to railroad officials who refused to honor it because it was not sealed.

Madison County Deputy Sheriff James Estes delivered a sealed restraining order to railroad officials who then ordered the work stopped.

A hearing for a temporary injunction to keep the work from being done is to be held at 9:30 a.m. Monday in court at the Granite City Hall.

A group of farmers and their wives protested the work Wednesday, attempting to convince railroad workers to stop the work. The scene to halt the culvert enlarging operations. An injunction was obtained by Joseph and Ethel Gieselmans, on whose property the water was flowing, halting the work.

They agreed they probably will make the first payment after an invoice for the tractor Chas. A. and Douglas Macios was received. A truck and the tractor were obtained from Beuckman Ford on an emergency basis when other equipment broke. An invoice for the truck has been received but payment of the bill for both pieces of equipment is being withheld.

The town auditors paid all road and bridge labor bills, bringing the payment up to date. The town has been behind in their pay since the department ran out of funds after paying off an antiquation warrant.

It was reported that a new township garage, now under construction, is standing and that only plumbing and doors are needed. It may be completed within 10 days, Walter "Dick" Sparks, supervisor, noted.

plan, the holding pond will be emptied by an underground line into newly installed drainage tiles along Route 203.

The town board also discussed progress on designing of a plan to drain the Parkway Estates area. The Sheppard, Corp. and Schwaab engineering and consulting firm of Granite City is preparing a plan for that project which should be completed by the end of this month, Whitsett told the auditors.

He said public drainage easements are available which he felt should be dedicated to the township's highway commissioner before being used in the project.

Mrs. Helen Hawkins, township health officer until Monday night, said the Alton and Southern Railroad is enlarging culverts under its tracks in that area. The work was assisting trapped water in escaping eastward.

A group of farmers and their wives protested the work Wednesday, attempting to convince railroad workers to stop the work. The scene to halt the culvert enlarging operations. An injunction was obtained by Joseph and Ethel Gieselmans, on whose property the water was flowing, halting the work.

Nameoki to call new bids for town hall expansion

The Nameoki Town Board of Aldermen Monday night agreed to again advertise for bids for expansion and improvement of the town hall at 4250 Highway 161.

Louis Whitsell, township supervisor, told the board that the $53,262 bid formerly accepted from R. W. Booker Co., Inc., of Hannel, was valid only for 60 days and that period had expired.

Whitsell said he contacted Booker about a change order for an air conditioner in the present building, and explained, "He (Booker) told me he wanted nothing to do with this project." The supervisor added they studied the old bid of $58,368 from Ed Moore Construction Co., which was rejected, and were told he, also, would be unable to hold to the old price. He estimated the work now would cost $61,990, more than $3,000 above the bid submitted a out 30 days ago.

Vasileff advised, "Since we accepted no bid within 60 days, we are in no position to accept any bid previously submitted." He suggested the present specifications be altered to provide new air conditioning in the present building and the project be rebid.

Whitsell predicted the delay could end hopes of the building improvement this year. "It may be next year now before we get this thing on the road. It's getting pretty late," he said, referring to winter's approach. The board authorized the clerk to advertise immediately for new bids to be opened at the board's next meeting, Aug. 26. The supervisor said the township should be able to meet the anticipated higher costs. The building is to be financed partly by a loan and partly by revenue sharing. The loan would be repaid by rent paid the township from the highway department and general assistance office. The auditors previously earmarked $35,000 in federal revenue sharing funds for the first year's payment from that source.

U.S.-SOVIET TRADE

Are we buying Moscow's version of Brooklyn Bridge?

By EDWARD NEILAN

WASHINGTON — The Soviet Union's trade representatives continue to make the rounds of the West, using all the techniques of the old Fuller Brush man.

Ivan the salesman has his foot in America's business door and he's not about to take it out.

Ivan's pitch is that he's really not a salesman at all, but a buyer. He wants to buy items from a formidable shopping list — most of the items are high technology products — and would like to finance the purchase with American loans, at low interest rates.

There are many American businessmen and groups rising to support enthusiastically such East-West commercial chumminess.

A few voices, notably that of Sen. Henry M. Jackson, D-Wash., have been raised to suggest that the Soviets are trying to sell Uncle Sam the Moscow equivalent of the Brooklyn Bridge.

As a result of agreements signed in 1972, U.S. exports to Russia have climbed sharply, from $161 million in 1971 to $342 million in 1972 and $1.2 billion in 1973.

Since 1973 imports from the Soviet Union totaled only $214 million, the trade surplus in Washington's favor of more than $970 million made a large contribution to the U.S. balance of payments surplus for 1973.

Longer-run projections suggest that the objective of a $2 billion to $3 billion two-way trade for the next three or four years is a feasible goal.

U.S. grain exports have led the trade surge during weak Soviet crop years.

But sales of manufactured and high technology goods are increasing and seem to present the best long-range prospects for continuing trade.

Increased Soviet reliance on American technology — to paper over defects in their own system, some suggest — is partly responsible for the warm reception American businessmen are getting in Moscow these days.

The quid pro quo is supposed to be Western production know-how and capital goods in return for Soviet raw materials badly needed in the United States.

What about political by-products of the warming trade relationship? Is increased U.S.-Soviet trade due to political détente, a factor in détente, or are trade relationships beside the point in terms of international politics?

Alexander Hamilton once said "The spirit of commerce has a tendency to soften the manners of men and to extinguish those inflammable humors which so often have kindled into wars."

Political scientist Walter Laqueur is skeptical. By and large, he said, "the contribution of foreign commerce to the cause of peace is about as great as that of international ice hockey matches."

Commentator Stephen Rosenfield, another skeptic, said the notion that those who trade together do not fight is debunked by history.

Germany's robust trade with France and Britain in both 1914 and 1939 just before the two world wars.

Moscow-Washington problems, said Rosenfield, "do not lie in a shortage of economic link they lie in a surplus of strategic and political tensions and of differences in values."

"Trade is well and good, but it should not be expected to carry a heavy political load. It is a symbol of better relations but it should not be confused with the substance."

From other perspectives, the political fallout from U.S.-Soviet trade could be very substantial.

A House Foreign Affairs subcommittee report issued in 1973 concluded that trade and other exchanges are absolutely essential. If the two do not continue to develop commercial ties, the report said, there could be a "sharp deterioration." If they do continue, "significant long-run benefits of a predominantly political nature might accrue to the United States."

Such as a decline in the Soviet threat to American security and an increase in Soviet acceptance of the Western international system.

"Over-all," the House study said, "such political gains might far outweigh the relatively modest economic gains."

Sen. Jackson has made it clear that he does not oppose détente across the board. But he believes that the United States should be more tough in its dealing with the Soviets.

Appearing on the television "Meet the Press" program Sunday, July 14, Jackson said trade concessions to the Soviet Union should be tied to an agreement by Moscow to cut military spending.

"The question is," according to Jackson, "why should we subsidize the Soviet industrial-military complex while they expand?"

Jackson, a 1976 presidential hopeful, said his proposals to put conditions on trade deals and lowered tariffs sought by Moscow were attempts to drive hard bargains, not to interfere in Soviet domestic affairs.

Year-round schools aren't a new idea

By MARY LOU MANNING

SPRINGFIELD — Not all children in Illinois go to school for nine months and have a three-month vacation.

Take those attending the Valley View school district in Lockport. Or those in the Chicago district of DuSable, which includes Lowell, Rosten and Libby Elementary Schools and Dyett Middle School. They're all on the 45-15 plan.

This plan is one of several models for the scheduling of year-round schools. It works something like this.

The neighborhood serving the school is divided into four sections. Each section attends school for 45 days and then receives a 15-day vacation. The attendance dates of the four sections are staggered so that only three sections occupy the building at any given date.

"This way, families are never separated," asserted Jack Robertson of the Office of the Superintendent of Public Instruction's instruction and curriculum section. "And teachers may work year-round with sabbatical leave to pursue their education."

The OSPI has a collection of materials relating to the concept but is not "pushing" the idea, one way or another.

The idea of year-round schools is not a new one. Back in the 1800s, large cities including New York, Buffalo and Chicago were operating this way, according to a study on the feasibility of the year-round schools compiled by the OSPI. However, they soon decreased their calendar until the number of school days stabilized from 190 to 190.

In 1961, the Illinois legislature passed the first of three revisions of the school code designed to permit the year-round schools, "states the study."

Although parental support of the plan was low — a 1961 Gallup poll indicated 70 percent of the parents were opposed to this plan — 25 districts across the nation were operating on year-round schedules for the 1972-73 school year. Many utilized the 45-15 plan.

The Valley View district, which began the plan in May, 1970, is the "home" of 45-15 format. Its origination was stemmed by the necessity of finding more space for a growing enrollment. During the last years prior to its implementation, student enrollment in the district had grown from 100 to 16,000. This was a direct result of the massive population shift from Chicago proper to the suburbs, according to a two-year evaluation of the program compiled by the OSPI.

With the increase in student numbers came a decrease in assessed valuation behind each student "because houses were being built with little accompanying growth in commercial or industrial wealth. Houses were substituted for farm land as taxable wealth."

"Despite the residents' assessment of increasingly high taxes on themselves, the legal maximum for building (indebtedness not to exceed 5 percent of the assessed valuation) was reached."

After experimenting with the double-shift sessions, the parents exhibited disapproval and a move was on to devise a suitable year-round program. The result was the first 45-15 plan.

After two years of operation, a study was conducted and the results indicated that both the staff and the community displayed a positive attitude toward it.

Specifically, the community was most positive about these aspects of the plan:

- Avoidance of overcrowded classrooms.
- Efficient use of tax money.
- Better use of vacation time.

A shift in special education from a cooperative among several districts to an in-district program.

Quality of elementary instruction, especially in the field of reading.

It was also found that absenteeism was higher in the winter months than the summer, a fact that was not foreseen. Teachers found it was "not much harder" to teach under the 45-15 plan than the traditional nine months schedule. Dozens of reasons for this attitude were given including the fact that many liked the added income made possible by the 12-month employment while others cited the possibility of spreading 180 days of teaching over 240 days.

The most significant problem involved the "unanticipated pressures inherent in

Bake a "Scotch" Peach Pie

Peach Pie takes on good butterscotch flavor when brown sugar and corn syrup are the sweeteners. Thicken the juice delicately with Argo corn starch.

Deep Dish Peach Pie
3 pounds peaches (12 medium)
1/2 cup firmly packed brown sugar
3 tablespoon corn starch
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/2 cup light corn syrup
2 tablespoons margarine

Pare and slice peaches. Mix together sugar, corn starch and salt in a cup. Toss with peaches. Turn into a (10x2x2-inch) baking dish. Pour in the corn syrup. Dot with margarine. Prepare pastry, topping by mixing together 1/2 cup flour and 1/2 teaspoon salt in mixing bowl. Using a pastry blender or two knives, cut in 1/2 cup margarine until fine crumbs form. Sprinkle 2 tablespoons water over mixture, tossing to blend. Press dough firmly into ball with hands. Roll out on lightly floured surface and trim to size. Roll wider than top of baking dish on all sides. Cut slits to permit escape of steam during baking. Place dough over peaches letting it extend up sides of dish. Bake in a 425° oven about 40 minutes or until peaches are tender and crust is lightly browned. Makes 6 servings.

Baton twirlers score victories

Three talented baton twirlers from Granite City returned here this week after participating in a national contest at South Bend, Ind., and competition in Michigan City, Ind., and at the Illinois State Fair in Springfield.

Sandra Norris, 7-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Martin Norris, has a collection of 400 trophies, including state and national titles.

Last week she won first place in the national cheerleading team title and placed among the top five contestants in the nation in various categories.

In Michigan City, the youngster received 15 trophies, including nine first-place awards in advance fancy strut, advance solo, advance hoop, advance basic strut, advance military, visitors solo, personality and best appearing military and advance duets.

At the Illinois State Fair, she won a first in advance solo, qualified for the next event in the 10-year-old level and participated in the "all top winners contest." In the final competition she placed sixth and received a plaque from Mrs. Joe Walker, wife of the governor.

Ray Yount, 10-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Yount and his sister, Zandra Yount, who is six years old, also took part in the three contests.

Ray was first runnerup in boys world solo twirl and won several other trophies in different events. The youngster is sponsored by both the First Granite City National Bank and the Granite City Trust and Savings Bank, where his trophy is now on display.

During the Michigan City contests, Ray won eight awards, including four first places in boys solo, flag, hoop and duets. He also captured first place trophies at the Springfield fair in solo, and the 10-year-old age group and a fourth in the finals to receive a plaque.

His sister placed first in the national cheerleading team. She was first runnerup in four other contests and among the top five in the nation in four contests.

While competing in Michigan City, Zandra Yount won 14 trophies with seven firsts in Miss Swim Suit, personality, fancy strut, basic strut, military march, parade majorette and special twirl.

The youngster received a second in advance solo at the Illinois fair.

All three children are students at Sharold Yount School of Baton. Mrs. Yount is planning to sponsor a contest and pageant on Sept. 14 and 15 in Granite City.

Recluse spider club topic

Mrs. John Sigite, who recently was bitten by a recluse spider, explained the effects suffered from the bite, including pain and discomfort, and described the procedure and time necessary to control the venom for members of the Garden Study Club at a meeting last week.

Mrs. W. G. Cooley entertained the club at her home, 2715 Center St.

A letter from the Garden Clubs of Illinois, Inc., stated a contest will be held for Illinois students enrolled in the 10th through 12th grades using a theme "Trees Today for Life Tomorrow." Awards will be given to the top winners.

Mrs. Stephen Shea, chairman of the Blue Star Marker program, explained in a letter the procedures for applying for a marker, which is a club project this year.

A report was given by Mrs. E. H. Theis on her entry of horticulture plants and those of Mrs. Wilmer Winter in the Lakeview Garden Club flower show. Mrs. Theis won four blue ribbons and one red award and Mrs. Winter received two blue ribbons.

Plans also were made to sponsor a bake sale in October. Eleven members and a guest, Mrs. Joan Kaseberg, attended.

708 Board may restore office of coordinator

Questions over the proposed hiring of a coordinator for the Madison County Mental Health (708) Board were voiced by several board members following Monday's regular 708 meeting.

At the meeting, the new

Solicitation is unauthorized

A group contacting businesses and individuals in the state which implies it is associated with the Illinois State Police and solicits for advertising in a magazine, is not authorized to do so by the state police, Trooper James G. Gallo, safety education officer, warned today.

The troopers have been receiving inquiries from several persons about a magazine advertising campaign in which advertising salesmen indicated the campaign was being conducted by the Illinois State Police, Gallo said.

Dwight E. Pitman, superintendent of the state police, issued a statement, saying, "Although members of the Illinois State Police belong to certain police organizations, neither the Illinois State Police nor its members at any time solicit for advertisement in any publication."

"I would urge that if the public is contacted by anyone implying that he is soliciting on behalf of the Illinois State Police, that it be reported to the nearest State Police Headquarters before any agreement to purchase advertising is made," Pitman concluded.

The number for District 11 of the state police is 345-1212.

chairman, Wayne Bridgewater, of Roxana, said he would like the board members to submit names of persons they feel should be considered for the coordinator post.

The post has been vacant since David Buchheim was dismissed, or his post dissolved, in September, 1971. The president then, Ralph Yenn of Wood River, commented when Buchheim was dismissed, "We felt we did not need a coordinator at this time."

At Monday night's meeting, Edwin Reiske of Granite City, president of the Tri-City Trades and Labor Council and secretary of the Labor Temple Association, who also is a 708 Board member, commented that the board had not determined that a new coordinator is necessary now.

Bridgewater said names of prospective coordinators will be discussed during a private 708 board meeting which he will call.

At least two of the seven members on the board have expressed a fear that Bridgewater may attempt to have the board finalize the hiring during the private meeting.

"It is my impression that any hiring or expanding of the public's money done anywhere else than in a public meeting is illegal and I will just have to point that out at a public (Madison County Board) meeting if it happens," one member said.

At least one county board member has indicated displeasure with the possibility of a coordinator being hired and has indicated that some opposition will be voiced on the floor of the county board meeting if a coordinator is hired, particularly if hired in a private session.

The county board will meet Wednesday, Aug. 21, but it is not known if a coordinator will have been named by that date.

Bridgewater also is a member of the County Board. It was noted at Monday's meeting that the board has been waiting several months for a requested opinion from the state's attorney's office on whether the 708 Board may give funds to the non-profit Organization for the Advancement of the Handicapped (OATH).

The OATH members are renting and remodeling a building at 612 State St. to be used for a Specialized Services sheltered workshop and training facility. Volunteer labor is being used to remodel the facility.

Handicapped persons in the program have been bused daily to a workshop in Collinsville since a facility here was closed several months ago.

Several 708 Board members have indicated the OATH group is operating on a very tight budget and would be able to complete the project faster with 708 funds. The building will be used completely for county mental health programs under the direction of the 708 Board.

New SIUE Students Get Help with 'College Life'

The New Student Life Program, a service designed to help incoming freshmen and transfer students adjust to the campus, has been in progress all summer at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville.

"The goal of the live-in experience is to accomplish everything a student needs to start to school here in September," Jim Rotter, coordinator of the program, said.

Sixteen counselors work with the students, explaining the entire registration process. They are advised, tested and registered. "Students have a lot of adjustment to make coming to a large university from a small high school or community college," Rotter said. "The New Student Life program is part of SIUE's effort to make their adjustment easier."

Six different workshops are held during the new students' two-and-a-half day stay. The students take tours of the campus, learning where classes are located. They rap with staff over solutions to possible classroom "hassles." Teachers are contacted to allow the students to sit in on classes.

One workshop introduces the students to major organizations on campus. They are also provided data on where to go when they need academic, financial or emotional assistance.

University Placement Services provides them with occupational outlook information. They are given a realistic view of what the job market in their field of interest may be like when they graduate.

Finer is Air Force enlistee

Charles H. Freiner Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles H. Freiner Sr., 2221 Alexander St., enlisted in the U.S. Air Force on Aug. 8, according to Sergeant George Habbert, local Air Force recruiter.

Shortly after the enlistment ceremony, Airman Freiner departed for Lackland Air Force Base near San Antonio, Tex., where he will enter six weeks of basic military training. Upon completion of the training he will either be assigned to an Air Force base locally or to a technical school.

Information about enlistment in the United States Air Force may be obtained from Sergeant Habbert at 1204 Niedringhaus Ave., phone 876-3225.

Passport To Pleasure

WISCONSIN DELLS, WIS.—When the first tourist from Chicago stepped off the observation car of the Milwaukee Railroad around 1885 at the town of Kildee, he had the limited choice of a few logging rafts to navigate the Wisconsin River, friendly Winnebagoes with whom to swap stories and artifacts and little more.

Today, 118 summers later, all that has changed except for the primitive, breathtaking beauty of the Upper and Lower Dells preserved in its wilderness state.

This year more than 2 million vacationers from throughout the Midwest will visit the Dells, stay an average of three days, in one or more of 420 motel rooms, bring along an average of 2½ kids, to enjoy a variety of exciting educational and entertaining attractions.

No trip to the Dells is complete without a scenic trip through the Upper and Lower Dells on one of the 22 Luxurious launches operated by the Dells Boat Company, Inc.

Not to be missed are the non-denominational Biblical Gardens, an emotional visit through nature's cathedral to see the life and time of Jesus in startling sculptured realism. This is a must for students of religion and Biblical history. Children of all ages will find pleasure in Storybook Gardens which brings to larger-than-life realism many of the characters of Mother Goose and other children's classics. The kids will have an opportunity to find the sheep for Little Red Riding Hood, as well as pet the live tame animals.

The modern Wisconsin voyageur/traveler is not limited to the Milwaukee Railroad, although that trusty streamlined train still makes a daily stop.

Registration open for golf event

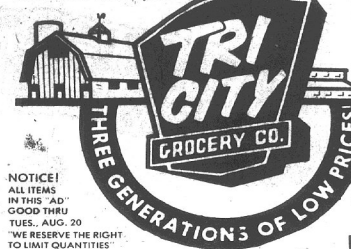

Granite City Park District registration forms at the park office for the fourth annual park golf tournament, which concludes Aug. 25.

Ne-Jessie, park recreation director, said all entries received tomorrow will be entered in qualifying rounds on Sunday at the Arlington Heights Golf Course.

Tournament winners will be determined by combining qualifying rounds and Aug. 25 final round scores. An eight stroke shoot-out will be in effect.

Interested persons may obtain additional information by contacting the park district office at 877-3059.

What do people pray about?

PAWLING, N.Y.—What do people pray about? Their concerns reflect a cross section of all the worries, suffering, fear and problems that plague people everywhere, according to Dr. Norman Vincent Peale.

The mail Dr. Peale receives at the Foundation for Christian Living in Pawling (and it runs 8,000 to 10,000 letters a week) indicates that people are most deeply concerned about their physical and mental well-being or are afraid and anxious about their futures.

A large number pray for faith to confront loneliness, hate and resentment or the loss of a loved one. Social problems such as business crises, drinking drugs, homosexuality, premarital sex and abortion are on many minds. Family problems incurred in marriage, rebellious children and the burden of caring for the older generation, are cause for prayer and meditation in many homes.

And, not surprisingly to Dr. Peale, there are a significant number of people who pray not for themselves but for world and national leaders, for their churches and ministers, for solutions to the political problem, for conservation of resources and for an end to the shortages plaguing the nation.

Thousands of people write to the Foundation for Christian Living every year requesting the prayers of staff members who gather for prayer fellowship at 9:30 a.m. every morning at the beginning of their workday. Among the correspondents are servicemen, wives and mothers, business and professional men, teenagers, the elderly and dying and alcoholics — "You name it and the problem is there," Dr. Peale observed.

The foundation in Pawling, 70 miles north of Dr. Peale's New York pulpit in Marble Collegiate Church, disseminates his sermons and booklets and inspirational writings of others to more than 600,000 people in 130 countries.

This outpouring brings in volumes of mail in which people discuss their problems. A man who had been an alcoholic for years writes about how Alcoholics Anonymous and the "power of prayer" finally straightened him out. A mother asks for prayer for her son, who is "doing time" in a penitentiary. A wife asks for spiritual guidance to give her strength to stand by her husband, who has been accused of rape.

Twenty years ago a soldier stationed in Germany read one of Dr. Peale's magazine columns and is now writing to thank him for giving him courage to face up to his duties.

From a 19-year-old boy comes a letter thanking Dr. Peale for the spiritual guidance he received from the foundation and adding that "I have found out that no one is too young or too old for God."

An adopted daughter who turned to drugs is finally finding her way back to normal life with the help of spiritual support and her family's refusal to turn their backs on her. In a letter to Dr. Peale she wrote that when she gets out of jail she will be "high on life and maybe even religion."

"People in here talk of their problems," she said. "How selfish of me to brood over mine with all I have, huh? How foolish of me to punish myself all these years. Did it change anything? No! I know I must live for today, for tomorrow will come only from today's actions."

A 14-year-old girl wrote to Dr. Peale that she was having trouble getting along with her parents and that she had "hate in my heart."

"I know that I am going down the wrong way of life, but I don't know how to change my life... I know that God will forgive me for my sins and that he loves me, but I don't understand how he can because I have done so many things wrong."

Dr. Peale invites anyone wishing prayer guidance to write to Box 29, Foundation for Christian Living, Pawling, N.Y. 12964, and request a free copy of How Card No. 2 — "How to Pray with Power."

Picnic, regatta for Cub Scouts

A picnic and regatta race for boys of Cub Packs 108 and 121 were held during the weekend at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Norman Kinder, 2554 Waterman Ave.

Boats made by the boys, assisted by their fathers, were entered in the race. Trophies were presented to Craig York, Richard Dermott and John Paschedag. Ribbons also went to Norman Kinder, Jimmy Smith, Kerry Flinn and the three winners.

Both Pack 108, sponsored by Lake School PTA, and Pack 121, organized at Wilson School, received certificates for participating in a bike rodeo. Mrs. Pat Foote, den leader coach, announced, Pack 108 also received a ribbon for its unit flag for completing requirements in the Presidential Award program.

A trip to Daniel Boone's home at Defiance, Mo., is planned for Aug. 24, with the group to leave from the First United Presbyterian Church parking area. Cub Pack 8, sponsored by the church, also will take part in the trip, it was reported.

Craig York was presented a day camp patch, neckerchief, slide, Indian headband and a "coup" stick carried by his den during day camp. York and Kinder conducted the opening flag ceremony.

Also attending the event were Mr. and Mrs. Dermott and sons, Keith and David, Mr. and Mrs. Flinn and children, Mr. and Mrs. Larry York and son, Mike, Mr. and Mrs. Bobby Smith and children, Jeff and Judy, Mrs. Richard Foote Sr. and son, Scott, and the host couple.

Plan church nursery school

The Rev. Herbert Merritt, pastor of the First Church of the Nazarene, has announced plans for the opening of the "Lots of Toys" Nursery and Pre-School at the new facilities on Highway 111.

The child development center will give professional training in the child's most impressionable years, he said. It will be staffed by a college-trained director and experienced teachers.

The nursery will be open five days a week—Monday through Friday, from 8:30 a.m. to 5 p.m., to accommodate working mothers.

Registrations are being accepted now for full or part-time enrollees, from infants through 5 years, at low rates. Planned activities for child development in such areas as creativity, numbers, colors, shapes, sounds, social skills, music, art, science, muscle coordination, etc., will be part of the program.

Tuition includes snacks and hot lunches. Early opening and later closing makes the center adaptable for the employed person, Rev. Merritt said.

"We feel the basic requirements for a good nursery school are—a safe, pleasant atmosphere in which every child feels valued and successful, a staff concerned with developing youngsters who delight in learning and programs that respond to each child's individual needs."

Venice Methodist vacation school

Vacation Bible school will start Monday evening at the Venice, United Methodist Church, with all children in the community being invited to attend.

Mrs. Magdalena Smith, Bible school superintendent, said the program will be conducted for youngsters who are kindergarten through high school age.

Classes will be held from 6:30 p.m. until 9 p.m. Monday through Friday, Aug. 23, in the church. Stories and songs will be included in the nightly sessions.

CHESTER MENTAL HEALTH CENTER It will change its image by changing buildings

SPRINGFIELD — For all practical purposes the Chester Mental Health Center looks like a medieval fortress. Or a prison, which it was at one time.

In fact, the center has seen-sawed back and forth between state departments since it was created by the Board of Prisons in 1889. It has been controlled by, at various times, the Departments of Public Welfare and Public Safety, the Division of Penal Institutions and, presently, the Department of Mental Health. It has been called, at various times, the Illinois Asylum for Insane Criminals, Chester State Hospital, Illinois Security Hospital, and, presently, the CMHC. But the center is about to change its image by changing structures. Plans call for a new CMHC to be completed in October and occupation to take place early next year. The $4 million facility will contain 16 units, each housing 20 patients for a total capacity of nearly 320.

"Architecturally, the new center is very unique," explained Dr. Terry Brejle, superintendent of the hospital. "It will theoretically provide maximum security in an environment that is light and airy, with floor to ceiling glass walls, panels and patios are remarkable and unusual in this type of facility."

The 300-plus male residents of the center come from two sources. More than half are persons charged with a crime but found mentally unfit to stand trial. The remaining men have not been charged with a crime but are transferred to Chester from other DMH facilities because they require a maximum security environment. A very small percentage of the population falls into the "other" category.

The new facility is being built like a hospital. The four-story fortress-like building will be replaced by a complex of buildings, all on ground level. Bars will be replaced by screens which withstand 184,000 pounds per square inch of pressure. Cells will be replaced by private rooms. "It is unique in terms of a quick transition between a very strong, very powerful overwhelming penal punishment module with no privacy to something quite different than that," said Dr. Brejle.

"In the new buildings, everyone will have a private room and every unit will have a landscaped patio right off their day room and two courtyards, a huge recreation area, gymnasium and multipurpose room will be located in the center of the complex. It will be a reasonable, humane and almost normal environment." Security will play an important — but not evident — role in the new center.

"Architecturally, there doesn't appear to be much security from the outside," Dr. Brejle explained. "There will be a fence surrounding the complex and inside the buildings there will be a substantial number of electronic devices to monitor a number of activities."

For example, the devices — which do not include television monitors — will indicate when a door or window has been opened, activity in the attics, etc.

Too, half of the 16 units are designated "maximum security" and half "minimum security."

"The only difference between the two types is that the maximum security units will have a sink and toilet in each room because it may be necessary to lock each room at night," the superintendent related.

"The minimum security units will have centrally located bathroom facilities and the unit will be locked rather than each room."

In 1961 there was no staff except guards. Today the staff totals 242.

"We anticipate that we'll need an additional 80-100 new employees to handle new services made available by the expanded facility, such as security-related people and additional dietary workers," he said.

In the past, the average stay was five years before a patient left the hospital either to stand trial or return to a minimum security facility. Today it is 16 months.

"This is a dramatic decrease in the length of stay," Dr. Brejle commented. "I think it is attributable to our staff."

Another real problem of the old building is the fact that facilities are physically falling apart.

"We may have to hold this thing together with Band-aids until the move is made."

Wedding Trips Are Still Fashionable

Headlines may rise and fall, but one thing which never goes out of style is getting married. Statistics prove that the number of marriages since 1965 has jumped from the 1,789,000 line to a projection of 2,241,000 by 1975.

With marriage ever gaining in popularity, so too is the wedding trip. 89% of all couples who get married take wedding trips with Florida leading as the number one honeymoon state in the U.S.A.

One spot which offers all the activities a couple could want is The Breakers Hotel in Palm Beach, Florida. Copied after the Villa Medici in Rome, The Breakers is like an exotic cruise ship with everything to offer but sea sickness.

For the Honeymooners, the Breakers is offering a special four night, five day holiday excursion. For $259.70 the couple will receive breakfast and dinner, a complimentary bottle of champagne, a looker at the beach club, a round of golf for two, a bicycle trail tour of Lake Worth, two hours of complimentary tennis and the Breakers' souvenir gift.

The hotel is a three time Mobil Pivo Star Award winner and has been named by the National Register of Historic Places as "Culturally Significant."

Shannons host family dinner

Also guests were another son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. George Lipscomb, and daughter, Patricia, of Granite City.

During the visit, a dinner party was given in honor of the Hachigian anniversary and the birthdays of David Hachigian and George Lipscomb.

Property condemned by Madison city council

The Madison City Council passed resolutions condemning three structures as unsafe at its meeting Tuesday night.

Declared unsafe and dangerous were structures located at 1418 Third Street, owned by Albert L. Shoemaker; 1422 Third St., owned by Charles E. and Diana B. McGinness; and Albert Shoemaker; and 815 Iowa St., owner of record being Stanley F. Kowalski and Anthony M. Smith.

A re-zoning request from Leo Pyles, 1544 Second St., was referred to the zoning commission. Pyles wishes to enlarge a garage in which he paints trucks. The area currently is zoned as residential and Pyles is requesting the area be re-zoned for business.

Bills in the amount of $2,513 for the period of July 31 to Aug. 9, 1974, were approved. Alderman Christ Costoff presided at the meeting in the absence of Mayor Mike Sasyk.

State water supplies sufficient

Despite widespread agricultural dryness and drought, water supplies throughout Illinois are not seriously affected as yet according to Dr. William C. Ackermann, chief of the Illinois State Water Survey.

According to Ackermann, July precipitation was below normal in all but the northeast section of the state. Rainfall amounts ranged from 3.69 inches in the northeast to 1.45 inches in the southwest. The southwest section was 1.89 inches below normal and the northeast was 0.42 inches above normal. The state as a whole reported a departure of 1.29 inches below normal.

Many Illinois streams were well above flood stage at the beginning of July. On July 2, the Illinois River at Beardstown was nearly 11 feet above flood stage. On July 12, the Illinois River was four feet over its banks at Beardstown. By the end of July, streams had returned from flood levels to seasonal normals.

Water supply reservoirs in the state are generally full. Lake Shelbyville remains above normal at 12.69 feet above normal pool stage. Rend Lake is 0.71 feet above normal pool elevation. Lakes Bloomington and Decatur show a slight decrease in storage.

Ackermann added that the water table is declining but remains above normal.

IN CRITICAL CONDITION
A 35-year-old Madison woman was in critical condition in the intensive care unit at St. Elizabeth Hospital yesterday, suffering a gunshot wound to the left shoulder. She was admitted at 9:15 p.m. Tuesday after police found her in her bedroom. Officers said she told them the wound was self-inflicted.

Seek ICC hearing on crossing guards

The Nameoki Town Board of Aldermen requested Monday that its attorney, Nick D. Vitell, prepare the necessary papers to apply to the Illinois Commerce Commission for a hearing on the township's request that crossing gates or lights be installed at the railroad crossings on Mendenhall Lane and Lake Drive, both north of Route 162.

A young woman motorist was killed at the Lake Drive crossing July 4, and a man was hurt seriously early Wednesday morning in a train-car crash on Mendenhall Lane.

John Whitsell, Nameoki Township supervisor, said that, in addition to the town board, he and other entities working to obtain the crossing light included the Pontoon Beach Village Board (Lake Drive only), a citizens' group, State Sen. Sam Vadalabene (D-Edwardsville) and State Rep. Horace Calvo (D-Granite City).

Whitsell said he also has prepared a resolution supporting efforts for the crossing safeguards. The resolution is to be presented to the Madison County Board Wednesday, Aug. 21.

The county board already has sent what Whitsell described as "a strong letter" to the ICC on dangers at the crossings. "With all this, maybe we can come up with something," he said.

If the township's petition for an ICC hearing is accepted, officials of the ICC will meet with the township representatives, railroad officials and other interested parties and "the township would have to show evidence of the need," Whitsell said.

He presented a sample petition and blank petition forms for the attorney to be used in preparing the hearing request.

Vitell asked if the township's share of the cost would be paid from the town fund or from the highway department's budget. Whitsell said the highway department probably will be responsible.

"We haven't budgeted for it or levied for it and I'm not sure there is any provision in the statutes providing for it," Vitell responded. Whitsell answered, "We might change the highway budget and even levy before September."

The attorney suggested that the possible use of revenue sharing funds be studied and the supervisor responded, "If you can show us a way, I'm sure the board will be willing."

Whitsell estimated the crossing lights may cost $30,000 to $50,000 for both crossings and said he hoped Pontoon Beach and Madison County would participate in the local funding.

Albert Bell, township highway commissioner, earlier disclosed a plan used to finance a crossing in Godfrey Township in which the state paid 70 per cent of the cost, the railroad paid 10 per cent and the local share was 20 per cent.

Whitsell said he feels the ICC will determine the funding formula if it decided that the crossing safeguards are needed.

Second coal conference is scheduled

Gov. Dan Walker Wednesday announced that the second conference on Illinois coal will take place at Southern Illinois University, Carbondale, Oct. 1 and 2.

Illinois Coal 2, as the conference is known, will be built around the theme "Mines to Market: the Challenge."

The first conference, Illinois Coal 1, was held in Chicago last March. Its emphasis was chiefly on conversion of Illinois coal to cleaner forms of fuel.

The objective of both conferences is finding ways to increase production and use of Illinois coal.

Chief subjects of the second conference will be technological, financial, environmental and safety aspects of producing and transporting Illinois coal on an expanded scale.

Gov. Walker said: "We learned quite a bit at the Chicago conference about the tremendous potential for using Illinois' vast coal reserves."

"The technology to convert coal is already here, in many cases."

"Further technological breakthroughs are just around the corner."

"In our second conference at Carbondale, we will be concentrating on producing, transporting and marketing Illinois coal."

"The potential for coal development in Illinois is greater than in any other state in the Union."

"Administration will continue searching for the best ways to make that potential a reality."

Enrollment at SIUE up this year

Applications for new freshmen and new transfers at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville are up over last fall at this time, according to Eugene Magac, assistant director of admissions.

"We don't know whether total enrollment will exceed last year's total, but we're almost assured that the new student enrollment will be higher," he said.

The number of new freshmen applying for admission at SIUE is up 12 per cent over last year while the number of new transfer students is up 3 per cent.

"Our transfer application rush is now on. Transfer students don't begin to apply for admission until the end of their spring quarter or semester. They may even go to another school during the summer session. They apply later because they like to have their transcripts as up-to-date as possible with their college work," Magac said.

"We are up. Applications are continuing to come in and we are continuing to accept them," he said. "Because other area schools have closed admissions, people may think we have closed ours. We begin our fall quarter much later so we can accept applications later. We will accept applications for admission through Sept. 12," Magac said.

There is no deadline for re-entering students. "Those who wish to come back, can submit their applications right up through the last day of registration," Magac said.

Registration without appointment will be held Sept. 19 from 8:30 a.m. until 7 p.m.

Advisory group meet changed

The Executive Advisory Committee of the East-West Gateway Coordinating Council will meet at 10 a.m. Monday, Aug. 26 to study issues and make recommendations to the full East-West board for the board's Sept. 11 meeting.

The board of directors postponed its regular August meeting until Sept. 11, canceling the Executive Advisory Board to change its meeting.

Mental health unit to direct drug programs

By MARY LOU MANNING
Springfield—The Department of Mental Health and Development Disabilities fought hard not to get control of the newly-created Dangerous Drug Commission.

"We fought so hard not to have the commission assigned to this department," explained Dr. LeRoy Levitt, director of the DMHDD, "because the problem of drug affects many sections of our society."

The newly-created commission will act as the central planning agency for the improvement of drug abuse facilities and programs throughout Illinois. This procedure was mandated by the Federal Drug Abuse Office and Treatment Act of 1972.

"I feel that we have the first or second best drug plan in the country," Levitt said.

The commission consists of 11 members, eight of which are directors of state health care departments. Three members will be appointed by the governor and approved by the Senate.

"We will be supported by a 20-man advisory panel," said Levitt, who is a member of the commission.

"During our recent organizational meeting, we addressed ourselves to support for drug abuse clinics in downstate Illinois," he said.

GRANITE CITY PRESS-RECORD
Thurs., Aug. 15, 1974 Page 33

"Many of the programs supported by the Illinois Drug Abuse Program are centered around Chicago. We will try to focus on cities such as Carbondale, Bloomington, Cairo." The IDAP, now in its sixth year, represents a joint effort between the DMHDD and the University of Chicago's Department of Psychiatry. Since its inception, more than 10,000 persons have voluntarily applied for treatment at one of 46 treatment centers throughout the state.

The new commission is also charged with coordinating the funding of drug abuse functions, and accepting grants and services from the federal government, which will be deposited into the commission's fund.

"We anticipate a constant flow of treatment money," the mental health chief executive said.

The legislation also provides for the collection of identification and arrest data from all federal, state and local law enforcement agencies. This information will be used in drug treatment, research, evaluation, licensing, regulation and monitoring and will remain confidential.

"This is one of the more forward pieces of legislation in the country," Levitt stated.

Registrations scheduled

Registration for new students will be held in the elementary schools of Granite City school district on Thursday, Aug. 22 from 9 a.m. to 12 a.m. and 1 p.m. to 3:00 p.m.

Junior and Senior High School students new to the district may register through Friday in the school they will attend. Earlier possible registration is advised to permit class scheduling.

Those who have questions about where to register their children may call the school board office, 876-6600.

Any child, who will be 5 years of age on or before Dec. 31, 1974, is eligible to enroll in kindergarten. A birth certificate must be presented at the time of registration.

Illinois law states that no child may enter school for the first time without the following immunizations: whooping cough, diphtheria, tetanus, polio and measles (or the illness).

The only exceptions are for religious or medical reasons. Physical examinations are required also of all students entering fifth and ninth grades or attending school in the State of Illinois for the first time.

Parents for physical examinations may be picked up at the Board of Education Office, 20th and Adams. Parents of new students are urged to meet the immunization and physical examination requirements prior to registration. Registration may not be completed until either all medical requirements have been met or written evidence of doctor's appointment is presented by parent.

B. J. Davis, Superintendent of Schools, urges that all students entering the local district for the first time be registered before the first day of school.

"It is a mutual interest of the parent, the child, and the school that every child be placed as early as possible in a program which will best meet his or her particular educational needs." Davis also urges anyone knowing of new families in their neighborhood to encourage them to register their children on the dates indicated above. Only students new to this district or who have not previously been in school need to register. Kindergarten children registered last spring need not register again.

Schmitt starts 25th year as Warrior mat coach

By KEN THOMPSON
Press-Record Sports Writer

During this year's sports banquet at Granite City High School South, that school's wrestling coach, William Schmitt, stood before the audience and said, "In all my years of coaching at this school, we would have to search high and low to find a scrapper and more determined bunch of matmen than we had this season."

"These are the wrestlers of the number one team in Southern Illinois."

The gleam and look in the eyes of the young matmen seated on the stage reflected, "We are the wrestlers of the number one coach in Southern Illinois."

The squad had battled its way to a 19-2 season record and won championship after championship—the Granite City Holiday Tournament, Southwestern Conference, 17th District title, third consecutive sectional crown—before placing seventh at the state finals.

"You can't measure coaching in terms of dollars and cents," said the man who this season will start his 25th year as head of the Warrior wrestling team.

"You measure it in terms of satisfaction and gratification. There's nothing in this whole world more gratifying than to meet one of your former students somewhere, discuss the good old days, and have him say, 'Thanks coach, for all you did for me.'"

"The school was contemplating giving up the wrestling program here when Lawrence McCauley (the late wrestling coach and school principal) gave up coaching," recalls Walt Whitaker, one of Schmitt's former students who later joined his wrestling staff and now is mat coach at Granite City High School North.

"But some of the school board members at that time were real wrestling fans and decided that since we had had a successful program under McCauley, not to drop it, and they set out to find us a coach."

Whitaker stated that when Schmitt came to Granite City at the start of the 1950-51 season that with him came state prominence to this city.

"I was fortunate to be his captain that first year. He showed us a lot of techniques that we had never seen before that really gave us an edge over other teams."

Coach Schmitt, who as a high school student at Alton was an outstanding wrestler and a national YMCA champion, remembers his first year here as being a successful one.

"As I recall, we had a 14-0 season. That was pretty good to start off with but, it has been a pretty difficult one to match."

But the former coach of Western Military Academy, before coming here, kept the Warriors record of possessing the oldest, longest and only perfect record of earning a state berth every year since the Illinois mat championships began in 1927.

Under his tenure in 1957, the school claimed the highest score for a non-champion team at state with 41 points. Eight years later, Schmitt and his matmen returned from state and with them carried the first state trophy ever presented to a Southern Illinois school.

MR. WRESTLING, Coach William Schmitt of Granite City High School South who will begin his 25th year of coaching when the new mat season opens.

"That was the year we weren't expected to do anything," he reminisced.

"We had a victory string of 133 wins broken earlier in the season by Mehlville, but that didn't seem to stop us. In fact it seemed to give the kids extra incentive to close out the year with something they could remember."

"We got to the state finals and five of our seven wrestlers scored to earn us the title."

Not all the years were as productive as the head mentor felt they should have been.

"In 1968 we lost four meets, which is the most we've ever lost since I've been here. I think our record was something like 13-4-1, but that still was a respectable season."

"It is one of those years that a coach likes to forget, but, at the same time, it was satisfying to me from the standpoint that these kids really came along. They were relatively green at the start of the season."

In 1970, the Warriors championed the Peoria quadrangular, Ritenour invitational, Southwestern Conference tournament, IHSA District, IHSA Sectional and sent five representatives to the IHSA state meet. They ended the season with a 16-2 record.

The end of the 1972 season saw the Granite City team fifth in the state with a perfect 21-0 record and a 100 consecutive victories over Southern Illinois teams.

"Mister Wrestling," who last year was installed as president of the National Wrestling Coaches' Association and is an IHSA official, hopes to maintain in the future the standards the Wrestling, like any other sport, also has its humor as GCHS North's Whitaker recalls the first-ever scheduled meet between GCHS and Ritenour of Missouri.

"It was supposed to be a real big event. You know, Missouri State champs versus the Steel Mill kids of Granite City."

"Well, somehow, and we have not to this day been able to figure out what happened, both schools got their wires crossed. Ritenour came here at the same time we had gone over there. What a mix up."

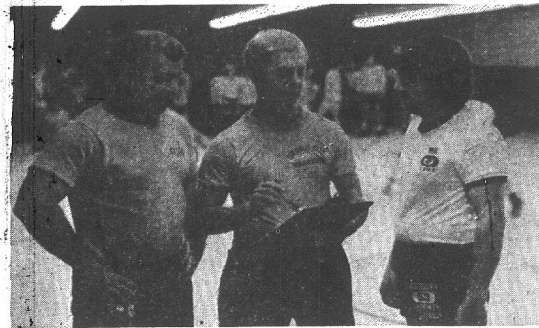

"There's no doubt that I have learned a lot from the boys all these years," says Schmitt.

"Looking back now, I don't think they were any more dedicated than the kids are today. I think the wrestlers back in the early '50s considered wrestling to be their sport, but it didn't demand so much of them then. When the wrestling season started they reported for the team, when it ended that was it."

Today, these kids come out and they are pressured in many different ways and have a great deal more distraction. If they are going to be champions, they now have to be there on the mat nine or ten months out of the year."

When he isn't teaching the sport of wrestling during the school year, he is out on the football or track fields as a referee or serving as a referee for college level and summer freestyle competition.

"Mister Wrestling," who last year was installed as president of the National Wrestling Coaches' Association and is an IHSA official, hopes to maintain in the future the standards the

HE TRAINED MANY OPPONENTS who served under his guidance—both as coaches and wrestlers—opponents who since have gone on to become head coaches at other schools. One such former understudy, shown here as assistant coach to Schmitt in 1972, was Walt Whitaker, left, who now is coach for GCHS North. Another prospect is assistant Dale Rice, right.

BUILDING FOR THE FUTURE is Coach Schmitt as he demonstrates to Wilson Grade School boys modern wrestling techniques during a recent wrestling session at the school.

Varsities of yesterday set. "I hope we can continue to win. I realize that competition in the area is getting tougher and tougher."

"We always are looking behind us because there always is some school snapping at your heels in an attempt to topple your record."

"And now we have one other school to stay ahead of, GCHS North."

When the 1974-75 wrestling season rolls around for Schmitt and the Warriors, of GCHS South, the cry of every opposing team around will be, as in the past, "Beat Granite City South."

a CMC car stereo offer

AM/FM 8 Track
IN-DASH
Stereo

for only
$99.95

At this price, it's like paying for the stereo radio and getting the 8-track free. We've sold thousands of J.I.L.'s in-dash units and we've found they build power and rugged performance into each system. "Road and Track" (Feb. 1974) raved about their superb AM/FM reception... and this J.I.L. B41 is no exception. Inserting a tape cartridge through the radio dial-in-the-door automatically turns off the radio... starts the tape... and makes the B41 compact enough to build into the dash of even the smallest cars. If you like, CMC offers complete, professional installation... available 10 p.m. weekdays and 6 p.m. Saturday

Major changes for barrow show

By RON CORNWELL
U. of I. Extension Adviser
Major changes will be made in the "Tenth Anniversary" Illinois Spring Barrow Show scheduled Feb. 1, 1976, at the Illinois State Fairgrounds.

Only pigs that are tattooed in the fall of 1974 for the premiere class will be eligible for premiums in the carcass class. A second major change is that pigs must be tattooed before they reach 30 days of age and maximum permissible weight will be one pound per day of age at time of tattooing.

All pigs entered must be farrowed after Aug. 15. Anyone who wants their pigs tattooed should contact Dale Law at the Extension office.

Officers were recently elected for the Madison County Agriculture Extension Council. These officers will serve for the 1974-75 program year.

Gerald Stahlhut, Edwardsville area, was elected chairman of the council. Louis Wiemers, Dorsey area, was elected vice-chairman and Harley Willard, Collinsville area, was elected secretary.

Other members on the Agricultural Extension Council include Harold Balsters, Richard Bauer, Albert Brandt, Bill Dorsey, Ben Givlio, Ronald Hernan, Melvin Highlander, Darwin Meier, Leonard Niggi, Dale Rogier, Leonard Schaefer, Donald Sievers, Duane Steiner, and Louis Koeller.

Pasture is a crop that often is not fully utilized on many farms. In today's agriculture, many farms produce only grain and no livestock. To utilize this pasture as a productive part of a grain farm, pasture is often rented to neighbors to produce livestock.

The question is often raised on how should a fair pasture rental rate be determined.

One method of arriving at a fair pasture rental is to determine the hay yield in tons per acre that the pasture will produce during the growing season. Take the number of tons of hay produced in one season times the current market price of that type of hay. Subtract from this the hay harvesting cost. This will provide an estimate as to what a yearly rental rate should be.

The second method would be to determine a monthly rental rate. Recently the U. S. Department of Agriculture released estimates of cash rent for 1974. The following selections are from the U.S.D.A. data concerning average monthly rates per head for pasturing cattle on privately owned land in the cornbelt.

In 1972 the average monthly rate charged per head was $3.08. In 1973 the rate was $3.70 per head and in 1974 the rate was $4.63. It must be remembered that these figures represent state averages and represent a wide range in soil productivity.

Cropland is often rented on a cash basis. The U.S.D.A. recently released estimates of average cash rent for cropland in Illinois. In 1972 the gross cash rent paid for an acre of cropland was $38.05. In 1973 the rate was $41.55 per acre and in 1974 the rate was $52.65. The ratio of the gross cash rent to the value of the land in 1974 was 6 per cent.

Drought has plagued many parts of Illinois this summer. Some drought-damaged corn in Illinois will produce small grain yields. And chopping it as corn silage for use in beef rations is not only an effective way to utilize it, but may also help offset high grain prices that beef producers now face.

However, droughty plants often contain high nitrate contents that may harm livestock if excessive amounts are fed. In addition, ensiling corn high in nitrate content may result in the production of nitrogen oxide in the silo. This gas is deadly poisonous to both humans and livestock.

Be careful at silo filling time. Be sure to run the blower for 10 to 15 minutes before entering the silo. And even then be sure to have another person present when you enter an upright silo. All drought affected corn should be suspect. But fields that received high nitrate rates or fields that have high plant populations are most likely to contain high nitrate levels.

The lower parts of the plants contain the highest nitrate content. Therefore, you can reduce the amount of nitrates in the feeding by cutting extra high—15 to 18 inches. Since light is also essential for nitrate reduction, nitrate levels will be higher in the morning than in the afternoon and higher on cloudy days than on sunny days.

Mary Ellen Milton and Craig Rydgig are wed

Miss Mary Ellen Milton, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter C. Milton, 2541 Delmar Ave., became the bride of Army Specialist Four Craig Andrew Rydgig, son of Mrs. and Mrs. Andrew Rydgig, 1544 Joy Ave., on Aug. 3 at Niedringhaus United Methodist Church.

The double ring ceremony was performed by the Rev. Roy Baugh at 11 o'clock in the morning.

Walter Mathis accompanied the soloist, Miss Deborah Milton, a cousin of the bride, who sang "Whither Thou Goest," "Because" and "The Lord's Prayer."

Given in marriage by her father, the former Miss Milton was given in a Chantilly lace dress designed with a basque bodice, a sequin trimmed Sabrina neckline and long sleeves tapered to points over the hands.

A large bow with streamers accented the waist and a ruffled skirt cascaded into a chapel train.

Her mantilla veil was edged in Chantilly lace and she carried a bouquet of pink tea roses, stephanotis, elegant carnations and baby breath.

Preceding the bride down the aisle were Miss Beverly Staveland, a cousin of the bride, serving as maid of honor, and bridesmaids, Mrs. Janet Milton, the bride's sister-in-law, Misses Anita and Patricia Milton, sisters of the bride.

All the attendants wore identical Empire style gowns fashioned in pink dotted swiss. White Venise lace edged the double ruffles marking the necklines and sleeves.

Each carried a colonial basket of pink and white daisies, elegant carnations, pink tea roses and baby breath intermingled with greenery.

Kimberly Rydgig and Thomasina Milton, nieces of the bride and groom, were flower girls. They wore long frocks in pink and white dotted swiss and carried baskets similar to those held by the adult attendants.

Ande Suarez, was escorted by Paul Wasylak, a cousin of the groom. They served as a youthful version of the bridal couple. She was dressed in an A-line gown of white dotted swiss, enriched with multi-colored flowers. A Juliet cap secured her chapel veil and she held a nosegay of roses and carnations.

Attending the groom as best man was Nicholas Huniak. Vince Saputo, Les Noe and Mark Schmisser were groomsmen. Ushers included Walter C. Milton, the bride's brother, and Joseph Green, a cousin of the groom.

Miss Mary Livingston presided over the guest book. A luncheon was served following the service in Wesley Hall at the church and an evening reception took place at Holy Trinity Hall in Madison.

Both young people are graduates of Granite City High School. For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Milton chose a full length gown in mint green made with a high neckline and long sleeves.

Mrs. Rydgig, the groom's mother, was attired in a pale pink organza gown with embroidered flowers encircling the waistline. Both mothers wore white orchid corsages.

After a honeymoon trip to Springfield, Ill., the couple will depart for L'Harde in the Netherlands, where the groom is stationed with the U.S. Army.

MRS. POLOTZKY WINS AWARD AT STATE FAIR
Mrs. Nellie Polotzky, 1428 Fifth St., Madison, won two ribbons at the Illinois State Fair for her entries of handmade samplers.

She received a third place award and honorable mention for another item.

MR. AND MRS. LEON ROSS. They were united in marriage at Mount Gilead Church in Greenville, Ill. The bride is the former Miss Cheri Frieh, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Frieh of Greenville.

Ross-Frieh ceremony at Greenville church

An out-of-town wedding of interest here was that of Miss Cheri Frieh, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Frieh, Greenville, Ill., and Leon Ross, son of Mr. and Mrs. Leon Ross, 2629 Madison Ave., taking place on July 27 at Mount Gilead Church in Greenville.

The officiating minister was the Rev. Harold Kemp, who performed the double ring ceremony at 7:30 in the evening in a candlelight setting.

Miss Rita Fie sang "A Time For Us" and "More," accompanied by the organ by Mrs. Jesse Fie.

A reception was held in the church hall immediately following the ceremony. Miss Ruth Wilford registered the guests and assisting at the event were Mesdames James Frieh, Don Jones, Clyde Pruitt, Harold Kemp, Joe Harris, and Misses Carla Dierkes, Shari Lenington and Peggy Wallace.

Mr. Frieh escorted his daughter to the altar which held arrangements of carnations in pastel shades.

She wore a polyester organza gown fashioned with a Versace lace Empire bodice and long sleeves capped at the shoulders with matching lace.

A blue satin ribbon defined the crescent waistline and accented her organza skirt. A gathered flounce at the hem was edged in lace.

She wore a beribboned lace headpiece to secure a shoulder-length veil and she carried a cascade of blue daisies, pink rosebuds and baby breath.

Attending the bride was Darlene Snyder of Granite City. The groom chose Pat Brynary of Granite City as his best man. Mike Frieh and Jay Castelemon, both of Greenville, seated the guests.

Armenian services, picnic Sunday

Traditions handed down from generation to generation will be part of the religious ceremonies Sunday at a celebration for members of St. Gregory the Illuminator Armenian Apostolic Church, 1732 Maple St.

The congregation will take part in the Feast of the Assumption of the Holy Virgin, Mother of God, and the Blessing of the Grapes ceremonies, followed by the traditional picnic.

Church services will begin with morning worship at 9:45 a.m. with the Rev. Khoren Habeshian officiating.

The picnic and the Blessing of the Grapes will take place at Shelter 3 in Wilson Park. The menu will consist of shish-kebab (chunks of lamb meat skewered and broiled over charcoal flames), world renowned Armenian pilaf (cooked rice and cracked wheat), garden vegetables, French bread and beverages, a church spokesman said.

Church services will begin with morning worship at 9:45 a.m. with the Rev. Khoren Habeshian officiating.

The Rev. Habeshian said that prior to the 4th century, the Armenians were pagan worshippers, including the goddess, Vanadour, goddess of fertility.

A feast of fertility was celebrated in mid-August each year simultaneously, according to the ancient calendar, with Navasart—the start of a new year.

August also was the beginning of the harvest, the minister explained, when members of the royal family, religious leaders, intellectuals and others would gather in the Armenian capital of Ashdshad in the state of Daron for the feast.

tions of the harvest, blessed by the priests, as their sacrifice and pay homage to the goddess. Contests such as jousting, riding and archery would be staged, along with games, singing and dancing, the Rev. Habeshian said.

In 301 A.D., Armenia became the first nation to accept Christianity as a state religion, the local pastor said. St. Gregory the Illuminator, Catholics of all Armenians, then designated Aug. 16 as the Feast of the Holy Virgin, Mother of God, in order to eliminate the heathen significance of the original feast day.

All facets of the pagan practice were eradicated, but one—the Blessing of the Grapes ceremony, the Rev. Habeshian explained. He said the grapes, considered to be the noblest of the fruit family, remained part of the traditional feast for when converted to wine it represents the blood of Christ in Holy Communion services.

Removing summertime stains

By CATHERINE R. MAUCK Extension Adviser—Home Economics

Stained clothing and table linens generally accompany picnics and eating out. And, contrary to the detergent commercials, some stains are difficult to remove.

Stain treatment takes quick action, patience and know-how. Many stains that can be removed easily when they are fresh are difficult or impossible to remove later, especially after they are set by heat.

You should pretreat stains before laundering. Here are some tips on the treatment of common summertime stains:

Spill catup stains in cool water for 30 minutes or longer. If the stain remains after soaking or soaking, work a detergent into it, then rinse. Use a chlorine or peroxide bleach to remove any remaining stain. Rinse and launder as usual.

Remove mustard stain. Rub detergent into the dampened stain and rinse. If stain persists, soak in hot detergent solution for several hours or overnight. If stain remains, use a bleach solution. A strong sodium perborate bleach solution is most effective if it will not harm the fabric. Rinse well.

Soft-drink spills will generally respond to a pretreatment with detergent paste. When possible, sponge the spot immediately after the spill with cool water.

Chocolate stains need to be soaked in cool water and pretreated with detergent paste or soaked in warm water with enzyme-containing product. If a greasy stain remains, sponge it with grease solvent. Allow the article to dry and repeat the treatment if necessary.

Mud on clothes should be allowed to dry before removing what you can with a stiff brush. Rinse in cool water and then wash in hot water. Stains that remain from iron-rich clay should be treated as rust stains.

Pretreat glass stains with detergent solution or bleach solution if it is safe for the fabric.

Area extension leaders to meet

A humorous book review on parliamentary procedure is to be given by Mrs. Homer Correll of Edwardsville at the Homemakers Extension Association officers training school Aug. 22 at 9:30 a.m. at the county Cooperative Extension Service office, Edwardsville.

Those who will assist Mrs. Dresch in instructing the 100 HEA unit officers will be County Board members Mrs. James Early of New Douglas, Mrs. Richard Adams of Troy, Mrs. Carl Baumann and Mrs. Richard Wilson of Highland, and Mrs. Kermit Ratcliff of Edwardsville.

The Homemakers Extension Association is a county wide organization composed of 32 community units of clubs with a membership of 1,110. The purpose of HEA is to assist the University of Illinois Cooperative Extension Service in sponsoring an educational program in home economics for county residents.

Officiating at the two o'clock double ring ceremony was the brother of the bride, the Rev. Larry Ivan Richardson, pastor of Buckeye Christian Church at Cissie, Ill.

Baskets of white gladioli and pink carnations adorned the altar and branched candelabra holding lighted tapers were placed on each side.

Mrs. Aaron Adams, soloist, was accompanied at the organ by Lloyd Slaughter. Selections included "I Don't Know About Tomorrow," "I Love You Truly" and "I Walk With God."

Mr. Richardson escorted his daughter to the altar. She selected a floor length organza gown with sequins tracing the Chantilly bodice, the cuffs of the long puff sleeves and stand-up ruffled collar.

The bouffant skirt of organza was fashioned in triple tiers, each bordered with a wide band of scalloped Chantilly, and swept into a chapel train.

A jeweled crown secured her fingertip veil and she carried an offside cascade bouquet of white roses and stephanotis, with variegated ivy and greenery.

Mrs. Elden Kruse, an aunt of the bride, was matron of honor. She wore a bright pink dress designed with a lace bodice, long sleeves and a ruffled neckline.

The bridesmaid, Miss Delores Broughton, a cousin of the bride from Burnettsville, Ind., was dressed in long yellow gown made in the same style as the honor attendant's frock.

Both wore lace headpieces and carried crescent bouquets of daisy pom poms and carnations in shades to match their attire.

The flower girl, Kathy Broughton, a cousin of the bride also from Burnettsville, wore a lavender frock to match those worn by the adult attendants. She had a lavender ribbon in her hair and carried a plateau basket of white pom poms and lavender and yellow carnations.

Johnny Lindsey of Granite City served as the ringbearer. The groom chose his brother, George Parsons, of Rock Creek, W. Va., as his best man. Jeffrey Schreck of Granite City was the groomsmen.

Seating the guests were Elden Kruse of St. Charles, Mo., and Darrell Broughton of Burnettsville, both uncles of the bride.

Immediately following the ceremony, a reception was held in the church fellowship hall. About 90 guests attended. Miss Shirley Richardson of St. Louis, an aunt of the bride, presided at the guest book.

Assisting at the reception were Mrs. Betty Soper, Mrs. Terry Mayberry, Mrs. Jessie Wadsworth and Mrs. Frances Wilson, all of Wood River.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Richardson selected a formal length gown fashioned of lavender, pink, yellow and green floral fabric. The groom's mother, Mrs. Parsons, was attired in a long green and blue floral gown. Both wore white Elegance corsages.

A 1969 graduate of Granite City, the bride was employed at International Shoe Co., St. Louis. Her husband has completed four years service in the U.S. Army and received his discharge this month.

The newly married couple has departed for Rock Creek, W. Va., where they will reside.

Citizens will need to become familiar with the Nov. 5 proposal that would create a new sanitary district and dissolve the East Side levee district

Quad-Cities will not have to decide until Nov. 5 whether to create a new Sanitary District replacing the East Side Levee and Sanitary District.

Nevertheless, it is important that they start becoming familiar with the proposal, particularly since local votes could be decisive. State Rep. Monroe Flinn of Cahokia, sponsor of the referendum call, believes backers and opponents in the St. Clair County portion of the district may be about evenly divided.

The proposal includes both advantages and disadvantages.

The chief benefit—vesting of administrative authority in an appointed professional engineer—and other aspects of the changeover would not become effective until December 1976 even if approved this fall, an Rep. Flinn interprets the legislation.

House Bill 2143, passed by both the Illinois Senate and House and signed by Gov. Daniel Walker, leaves the district largely under its present enabling act of May 17, 1907. Its overall mission would remain "to drain and protect from overflow for sanitary purposes and to provide for sewage disposal."

Instead of a board of trustees elected by the public, there would be a board of commissioners whose function would place more emphasis on policy setting and less on directly supervising operation of the network of drainage lines, levees and pumping stations.

St. Clair County would continue to provide three members and the Quad-Cities two, assessed valuation within the two portions of the district would continue to govern which area has the board majority.

Appointments would be made by the county board chairman within each portion, presumably Nelson Hagnauer, present Madison County Board chairman, and Victor Canny, favored for election as St. Clair County board leader in November balloting. The chairman of the Madison County Board is chosen annually by the 29 elected in county board districts, from among their ranks. Selection of levee commissioners would be subject to the advice and consent of the two county boards.

The new sanitary district would be obligated for the same indebtedness as the present levee system and would continue to levy a tax against the real and personal property tax base. In the latter connection, it is worthy of note that while tax extensions are larger south of the county dividing line, levee tax collections from Quad-Cities by far outdistance those in the East St. Louis-Cahokia-Centre-ville area.

The enumeration of powers involves levees and embankments protecting against overflow from rivers, streams and water courses; auxiliary improvements and works; and drains, conduits, treatment plants, pumping plants, ditches, channels and outlets for treatment and disposal of stagnant or overflow water, sewage, industrial waste and other drainage.

Other provisions include: Staggered five-year terms, with initial terms of two and four years here, and one, three and five years in the St. Clair portion. A president would be chosen by the sanitary district board each year.

The board would have to appoint an executive director and could name a clerk and treasurer. Commissioners would be paid on a per diem basis, determined by the respective county boards, for actual attendance at board meetings.

The board would enact or disapprove bills, the one item for which the legislature is retaining the most credit.

The bills are not "picking out any particular part of them, but people that are making the most noise in favor of disclosure or getting rid of conflict of interest in campaign expenditures can settle that whole thing if they dig down in their pockets and give to the candidates they believe are good candidates."

The executive director would appoint and remove all district officers and employees other than board officers; prepare the budget for board approval and then administer it after adoption; report annually to the board on administrative activities; and keep the commissioners advised of the financial condition and make recommendations on future needs.

He would attend all meetings of the board and, when possible, its committees, taking part in discussions but having no vote; enforce all ordinances and see that all contracts are faithfully performed; and "advise, assist and cooperate in fostering the interest of institutions of learning and civic, professional and employ organizations in providing personnel standards and conditions in the district."

An amendment to Rep. Flinn's original proposal specifies that at least one commissioner from each county would have to be of another political party.

The net effect undoubtedly would be appointment of a Democrat and a Republican from the Quad-Cities and selection of two Democrats and one Republican from the St. Clair County section of the district.

Whether the new sanitary district becomes a reality in 1976 will depend on a "yes" or "no" majority vote district-wide Nov. 5, 1974. Since the voting will be held in conjunction with the general election, a reasonably large turnout is assured, increasing the likelihood that citizens' wishes will prevail.

Pres. Nixon accomplished much good

To the Editor:
I would sincerely like to think that there was not a dry eye nor a tight throat among the people of our country when the President gave his farewell address to us on Aug. 8 and again on the next morning's words to the staff and us.
I would like to believe that no one took any delight in realizing that his happiness. If there is such a person, he could not possibly be a good American and one who would not accept that more good has been accomplished by Mr. Nixon than he is presently receiving credit for.

I was somewhat provoked with senators and representatives who had nothing but praise although they had been trying to lay all kinds of blame as late as the day before. It seemed to me too much of people going to a wake and having nothing but good things to say about someone they never bothered with in life. Through all this turmoil, unrest, fault-finding and criticisms, I have repeatedly thought of the Indian prayer that many of the readers will know—

Great Spirit:
Let me not criticize my neighbor until I have walked a mile in his moccasins.

Dean of legislature says quality counts

SPRINGFIELD.—State Rep. Charles Clabaugh (D-10th) said that the legislature that passes the most legislation is necessarily the best legislature.

"If we didn't have a single new program and we made a reasonably equitable distribution of $7 billion worth of income which the state has," Clabaugh says, "that is pretty much of an accomplishment just keeping the store."

The Champaign Republican doesn't think much of the recently passed campaign disclosure bill, the one item for which the legislature is retaining the most credit.

"The bills are not 'picking out any particular part of them, but people that are making the most noise in favor of disclosure or getting rid of conflict of interest in campaign expenditures can settle that whole thing if they dig down in their pockets and give to the candidates they believe are good candidates."

and deserving of their support. I don't believe you can legislate morality and honesty."

Clabaugh, the dean of the legislators, is retiring this year after spending 36 years—almost half his lifetime—in the General Assembly.

He served during the administrations of eight governors: Horner, Stelle, Straton, Kerr, Shapiro, Ogilvie and Walker.

"Straton and Powell (the late speaker of the House and secretary of state) could always sit down and work things out," he reminisced. "The presence of the governor was always felt in the legislature, particularly with Straton. If there was an impasse, we felt we could go down to the second floor. Both sides would go down where they could find somebody who talked the language of both."

During the hectic days of the recent legislature, more than one lawmaker talked about the days 15 years ago when Straton and Powell could reach an agreement and then have the votes in the legislature to back them up. Powell has since become a state legislator. Legend has it that $800,000 in cash was found stuffed in his shoeboxes—but he was a colorful character as a legislator, too.

In 1959, for example, the Democrats controlled the House. Powell, from downstate Vicksburg, was deadlocked in the race for speaker with Joe De La Cour of Chicago. So he went to Straton, a Republican, who supplied the votes for him. As you might expect, the pair pretty much controlled the remainder of the session.

There is no similar strong leadership this year. The Daley Democrats stick together but they are not in the majority. There are Choate Democrats, some Walker Democrats and a few liberal independents.

On the Republican side of the aisle, the House is still factionalized between Speaker Bob Blair and his previous challenger, Henry Hyde. The group that has stuck together

ILLINOIS' OUTDOOR HERITAGE

CHESTNUT
(Castanea dentata)
In addition to its large, spiny fruits, the chestnut can be distinguished by its sharply toothed leaves. It is found primarily in southern Illinois. A large tree, once flourishing in rocky woodlands, the chestnut often attains heights of 100 feet and more, with a trunk diameter of up to three feet and a broadly rounded crown. The spiny burr grows up to two inches in diameter, is brown, and when split open reveals up to three flattened nuts. Its soft, reddish-brown wood is light in weight and is used in furniture, interior finishing and for fireplace fuel. The nuts are edible delicacies. The largest known species in Illinois is found in Ogle County and is 72 feet high with a trunk circumference of 13 feet.

most often are the Senate Republicans.

The feuding factions have certainly produced an unorthodox ending to the session. But Clabaugh says they are not as bad now as they used to be.

"The legislature is not nearly as raucous and mobile now as it used to be," he said. "In fact, it used to be so bad the first few years I was here that they would throw firecrackers and engage in other horseplay just to let off steam. They don't have that sort of thing anymore."

The greatest change to occur over the years, he said, came in 1957 when reapportionment brought 24 new members from Cook County to Springfield. He said they were mostly professional people, 35 to 40 years old, and they upgraded the quality of the legislature.

The saddest change, he said, is the decline in the number of farmers who serve. Clabaugh was a schoolteacher and a building contractor, but he was raised on a farm.

"The year I came in here 14 per cent of the members were farmers," he said. "Now it's 4 per cent. It's one of the biggest industries of the state, and certainly the most basic, but they have only nine members in the House."

15 Years added to life span

Fifty years ago in the United States the average life expectancy at birth was about 56 years. Today it is 70 years and mounting with each decade.

Hence within the lifetime of millions now living, at least 15 years have been added to the average human life.

With all the technological breakthroughs of the last half-century, this climb in life expectancy must be regarded as the greatest achievement of all.

How was it accomplished? By a desire to live longer? Most human beings have that urge, part of their built-in psychological survival kit.

Has a more sheltered existence done the trick? No way, for the hazards to human life today are greater than they were 50 years ago.

Doctors insist that the human life-span has been stretched because of a combination of circumstance and events: hospital instead of home care for the ill; advanced surgical and medical knowledge; improved public health education and sanitation; preventive medicine and immunization; and the discovery and development of many new so-called "wonder drugs."

The medical discoveries of a half-century read like science fiction. Some of the pioneers saw their discoveries and the growing threat, with hoots of disdain, for man often is reluctant to cope with the new, the untold, the unfamiliar and the new.

Take Alexander Fleming, a bacteriologist at St. Mary's Hospital in London. One day in 1928 he noticed a strange mold growing on a dish of streptococci—bacteria that can cause scarlet fever, strep throat and rheumatic fever.

The mold, blown in through an open window, was destroying the bacteria.

Fleming tested the mold and each time got remarkable results. He put the penicillin up against the bacteria that cause pneumonia, diphtheria and serious throat infections. It killed them all.

When Fleming grew the mold in broth, the bright yellow germ-killing liquid filtered out, indicating it could travel through the bloodstream and parts of the body. The old antiseptics could not.

But when Fleming made his findings in 1929 to the Medical Research Club, its members were unimpressed.

German scientists by the time were producing infection-fighting sulfa drugs.

Yet Fleming worked on, virtually unnoticed. In 1939, when war was declared and Britain was cut off from the sulfa drugs, a frantic search began for new antiseptics.

The task was to find a mold that could produce penicillin swiftly and in huge quantities.

The job went to the U.S. Department of Agriculture laboratory in Peoria, Ill., only 100 miles from Chicago, where the first antibiotic bomb was being fashioned.

On the penicillin task force was a young girl whose chief responsibility was to buy rotten food at local markets in the search for mold. Moldy Mary, as she was called, came back one day with a rotten cantaloupe on which the mold was prolific, producing 30 times as much penicillin as the original Fleming strain.

In 1945, Fleming and two colleagues, Howard Florey and Ernest B. Chain, received the Nobel Prize for their combined discoveries. Florey and Chain were the first to extract pure penicillin from mold.

Fleming, however, was known as the father of penicillin. He was knighted by the Queen of England and honored as one of the world's great scientists.

Thus the era of the antibiotic had arrived. Scientists looked in the strangest places for their germ killers. Selman A. Waksman, a Russian-born microbiologist, in 1943 noticed a strange mold growing on dirt taken from a chicken's neck. As he had tested hundreds of molds, he tried this one on the tough-to-kill tubercle bacilli. They were destroyed.

What was the beginning of a new antibiotic called streptomycin.

In the next 10 years deaths from tuberculosis dropped from 42 to less than 10 per 100,000 people. Waksman received the Nobel Prize for his discovery in 1952, just as the bacteria were developing a resistance to the antibiotic. In that year another drug, isoniazid, joined the battle against the great white plague.

Without Waksman's discovery, however, tuberculosis still might be a formidable killer. For instance, if it had continued at the 1923 death rate, tuberculosis would have claimed about 200,000, North's like wiping out a city the size of Madison, Wis.

Technically, gold is a dense, soft yellow, lustrous metal element that is virtually indestructible. It has been prized from primitive times. Some of the earliest artwork was done in gold. It very early became an acceptable medium of exchange.

Geologists tell us gold is widely dispersed throughout the earth's crust, probably carried up from great depths within the earth, partly dissolved and deposited in various ways.

In ancient times it was more rare than metals and very early was immortalized in the famous legend of "Jason and the Golden Fleece" based on an expedition around 1200 B.C. to seize gold washed out of river sands with the aid of sheepskins.

Modern discovery of gold in America didn't begin to appear in large quantities. From 1492 until 1600 more than eight million ounces came from South America. Another 48 million ounces were mined between 1700 and 1800.

The discovery of gold at Sutter's Mill in California in 1849 set off North America's greatest Gold Rush. In a 12-month period some 2.5 million ounces passed through buyers' and dealers' hands.

Today South Africa, which had its own major gold rush in the Transvaal many decades ago, leads the world in gold production—883 tons mined in 1973, down from 909 tons in 1972.

The Soviet Union is next with perhaps 229 tons a year, although that is only an educated guess. What is known is that the Soviet Union, despite being a Communist nation, prizes gold and sells it regularly, in effect using it as foreign exchange. It sold 330 tons of gold in 1973, and so far in 1974 another 280 tons.

What happens to all of this gold?

The amount that ends up as official government reserves is known, but not the total that is held privately by individuals. There have been some educated guesses that this could total 100 million ounces or more.

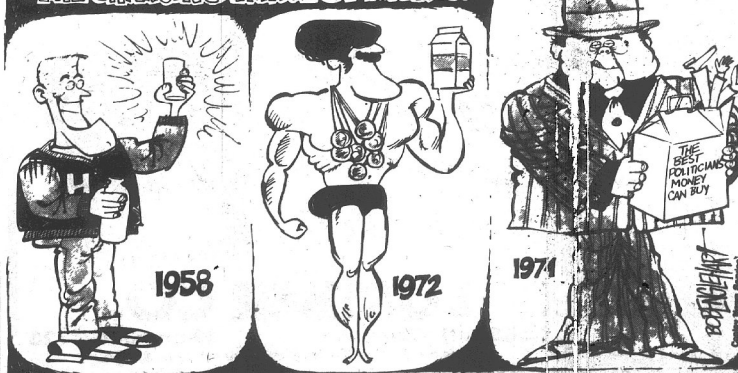

Frenchmen, who have had some bitter experiences with rapidly depreciating currency, have traditionally prized and hoarded gold. French citizens are believed to have up to 10 million ounces stashed away.

Now Americans presumably will be able to join the hoarders, even bid for gold on the open markets that flourish in Europe.

Some feel that in a world riddled by inflation holding gold is a permanent and sensible hedge. There have been some suggestions all this time that gold eventually drive the price of gold up to $500 an ounce.

Perhaps. But you can also lose your shirt. Just ask Jason. He got fleeced.

THE CHANGING IMAGE OF MILK...

Opera 'Aida', Richard Hayman in Symphony concerts at MRF

Saturday evening at 8:30 p.m. Walter Susskind will conduct the Saint Louis Symphony Orchestra in the concert version of Verdi's "Aida" at the Mississippi River Festival, Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville.

Sunday, Richard Hayman, chief arranger for the Boston Pops Orchestra, will direct the Symphony in a variety of popular songs.

The presentation of "Aida" affords area residents a rare opportunity to hear opera and continues the festival tradition begun last season of including one concert-version opera, sung in English, each year.

The conflict for Aida between loyalty to her father and her love for Radames is the basis of the story which takes place in Egypt and Ethiopia are going to war.

Aida is an Ethiopian slave, whose father, Amnorsio, is king and leader of the Ethiopian troops. Radames, her master and lover, commands the Egyptian troops.

Soloists for the performance will be soprano Elinor Ross as Aida; tenor Nicholas di Virgilio as Radames; baritone Ryan Edwards as Amnorsio; mezzo-soprano Sheila Nadler as Amnorsio's daughter, and bass Arnold Voketaitis as the King of Egypt.

Metropolitan Opera star Elinor Ross made her debut in 1958 at the Cincinnati Summer Opera as Leonora in "Il Trovatore" and repeated the role that fall with the Chicago Lyric Opera. A native of Tampa, Fla., Miss Ross studied there and with William Herman in New York. "La Forza del Destino," "Aida," and "Tosca" are among her most distinguished roles.

Nicholas di Virgilio, leading tenor with the San Francisco Opera Company, made his debut at the 1963 Tanglewood Festival. He spent a full season touring with the Metropolitan Opera National Company, has made guest appearances with most of America's major opera companies and orchestras, and has recorded for both RCA and Columbia.

Baritone Ryan Edwards has been hailed by the New York Times as "a fine Verdi interpreter." He has appeared with many leading orchestras including the New York Philharmonic, the Boston Symphony and the Los Angeles Philharmonic.

After gaining his Master's Degree at Texas Christian University in Fort Worth, Edwards worked with director Tito Caporino as a member of the American Opera Center at the Juilliard School of Music. He has since then been with the Dallas Civic Opera, the Fort Worth Opera Association and the New Jersey Opera.

Sheila Nadler, mezzo-soprano, makes a repeat performance at the festival; last season she sang the role of Suzuki in "Madame Butterfly." Miss Nadler has studied extensively in Europe and has appeared with this country's leading opera companies, including San Francisco and Baltimore.

Arnold Voketaitis who will sing the part of the King of Egypt, as well as Radames, has more than 120 operatic roles in his repertoire. He made his debut in 1958 in the New York City Opera Company production of Strauss' "The Silent Woman" and quickly graduated to key parts.

He was a prominent member of the Metropolitan Opera National Company during its first nationwide tour in 1963 and has performed with most leading opera groups in the U.S. as well as with the New York Philharmonic, the Boston Symphony and the Minnesota Orchestra.

Tickets for this special performance price from $2 to $15. Richard Hayman, the man responsible for the distinctive Boston Pops sound, will conduct the Saint Louis Symphony Orchestra Sunday evening at 7:30 p.m.

The program will feature music by Beethoven, Bacharach and the Beatles.

In addition to serving as chief arranger for the Boston Pops Orchestra since 1959, Mr. Hayman is musical director and conductor of the Detroit Symphony Orchestra's Pops Concert Series.

While he was a teenager, Hayman's writing and arranging caught the ear of M.G.M.'s musical director who put him to work on such films as "Gili Crazy" and "The King of Kings."

Hayman then joined the Vaughn Monroe Show as featured soloist and arranger

Burditt is speaker here

George Burditt, Republican candidate for the United States Senate, spoke at a breakfast gathering at Charlie's Restaurant Tuesday morning.

Burditt was critical of U. S. Senator Adlai Stevenson, who is seeking re-election in November, of having the philosophy of "letting the federal government do everything."

"I believe if there is any other way to get any job done without using the federal government, we should try it. I am not in favor of any form of federal controls."

"All one has to do is study Stevenson's record," he said.

"He is against federal revenue sharing; he has done absolutely nothing to try to balance the

Germania's Savings Passbook was great

Germania's New Prestige Card and Statement Savings Account is even better.

Now, with a new Germania Federal 5 1/2% regular savings account, you no longer need a passbook. It's been replaced by a handy wallet-sized "Prestige Card" that identifies you and your account.

In addition to the "Prestige Card," each new "Statement Savings Account" will receive a quarterly statement. This new statement gives you more information so you can keep your records more up-to-date.

Your quarterly statement includes:

- A complete record of the date of each transaction including deposits or withdrawals or transfer of funds.
- The interest added during the quarter and your year-to-date earnings.
- Total deposits and withdrawals during the quarter.

We do all the figuring by computer and pass it on to you. So you know the exact status of your account. At a glance you know everything about every transaction that's taken place.

What's more, the new Prestige Card even makes it possible for you to transfer funds from your bank to a Germania Federal Statement Savings Account through our Transmatic Service. In short, it makes money management easier than ever. If you would like to take advantage of this new service or transfer your existing Passbook Account, stop in or call Germania Federal for more information.

Tribute to Ellington, Chicago, Seals & Crofts all on MRF bill

Seals and Crofts for the finale Aug. 24. All programs begin at 8:30 p.m.

Three films will be shown in the "Holocaust" category: "Dr. Strangelove," the President of the United States and the Premier of the Soviet Union cooperate in a bizarre effort to save the world from total disaster; "Fail Safe" stars Henry Fonda and Walter Matthau in an extremely intelligent examination of the various responses to the threat of nuclear war; and John Frankenheimer directs "Seven Days in May."

The latter is a tale of an idealistic U.S. President who signs a Russian agreement for nuclear disarmament only to have one of his 5-star Generals decide to overthrow the constitutional government.

All three films may be seen for the price of $2 for general admission seats under the tent. Tuesday's Bluegrass Jamboree brings five different headliners to the Festival: The Country Gentlemen, The New Grass Revival, J.D. Crowe and the New South, Bryan Bowers, and Country Gazette.

The Country Gentlemen do not have a "country" look. The group performs in white tie and tails and have played in such places as Philharmonic Hall in New York and the King of Spades Memorial Hunt in Virginia.

The group was founded 35 years ago by Charles Waller who is emcee, lead singer and guitarist. The other "Gentlemen" are Doyle Lawson, who sings tenor, plays the mandolin, and does much of the musical arrangement; Bill Yates, bass player and singer; Rick Skaggs, fiddler and singer; and Mike Lilly, five-string banjo player and baritone.

Making quite a different appearance will be the New Grass Revival, a young Louis 110 string band and blues group with jeans and long hair. They like to adapt modern pieces to bluesgrass by altering rhythms and integral chords.

The four members of the New Grass Revival are Sam Bush, the 20-year-old lead singer who also plays mandolin, fiddle, guitar and bottle-neck mandolin; Curtis Burch, who sings and plays guitar and dobro; Gordy Johnson, banjo, and Ebo Walker who plays an amplified bass guitar equipped with two baroque tasks.

Aut harp artist Bryan Flowers started playing guitar in college, although, he says, he had no musical background to speak of. He prefers playing to live audiences although a Bowers recording is not an impossibility. Bowers performs on an Oscar Schmidt autoharp - the Stradivarius of the pickin' set.

J. D. Crowe and the New South hail from Lexington, Ky., and perform traditional bluegrass music. Members of the group are Tony Rice, guitar; Larry Rice, mandolin; Bob Mann, bass, and J. D. Crowe, banjo.

Country Gazette is a new "unite." Artists quartet composed of two Oklahomans and two Southern Californians with music roots in the tradition of the 1930s and Buffalo Springfield.

Don Berlin learned to play fiddle from his father on an Oklahoma farm and in 1964 and 1965 won the National Fiddle Contest. Roger Bush also was the product of a musical family. He learned a little piano from his mother and later picked up guitar and did country songs at family get-togethers.

Alan Munde learned guitar by listening to "the only record in the house," which happened to be "The Country Gentlemen" and is a blend of folk, country, rock blues, jazz and classical.

Making quite a different appearance will be the New Grass Revival, a young with David Crosby and turned to bluegrass, forming the Scottsville Squirrel Barkers with Chris Hillman.

In 1969 the paths of the four came together and Country Gazette was born. Their first album is titled "A Traitor in Our Midst."

Wednesday night's appearance of "Chicago" is their third at Edwardsville. The seven-man experimental band drew last season's largest MRF crowd.

The backgrounds of each of the seven members of Chicago have influenced the others. Trombone player James Pankow was schooled in the classics, then developed an interest in jazz that led him to the big bands, and finally to rock. Guitarist Terry Kath has broadened his rock beginnings to include the classical influences fostered by Pankow.

Robbie Lammi (keyboards and vocal) brought grandeur and grace that he developed when he sang in a church choir. Trumpet player Lee Loughnese once played country-western music in an Irish Show Band and has contributed a feeling of simplicity to the group.

Walt Parazader (woodwinds) studied jazz and classical clarinet. Bass player-vocalist Peter Cetera began in rock also, and has expanded his horizons after joining Chicago. Drummer Daniel Seraphine studied music on a formal basis while playing in rock bands and listening to jazz. Their newest album is "Chicago VII." Lawn seating only is available for the Chicago concert.

The Abrasive Yugoslavian Youth Ensemble, which will appear at the festival on Friday, Aug. 23, at 8:30 p.m., is making its first North American tour. The group has won standing ovations from delighted audiences. One, hundred juvenile singers, musicians, and above all, dancers comprise the troupe which performs ethnic music accompanied by spectacular dance.

Seals and Crofts will end this season's Mississippi River Festival with their performance Saturday, Aug. 24, at 8:30 p.m. Appearing with them will be England Dan and John Ford Coley, two long-time musicians from Texas who combine strong melody lines with effective lyrics.

Alan plays guitar which developed from his early interest in bass fiddle. He also plays saxophone but it is the combination of his guitar and John Coley's piano that is most often heard.

England Dan and John Ford Coley have toured with Carole King and Elton John and their first single "New Jersey" was played on the top 40 radio stations across the country. The two are about to release a new single, "Simone," and a new album on the A & M label.

More information about the festival may be obtained by calling 1-822-2320.

Information for the report was gathered during a series of four hearings held throughout the state. It is purported to be the first report on the subject of women's athletics ever undertaken, according to Rep. Jack Beaupre, D-Bourbonnais, chairman of the subcommittee.

Representatives of nine state public universities appeared for testimony. However, Northern Illinois University along with most other junior colleges did not respond, and the intention to include the community colleges in the report was dropped.

Sexual discrepancies were found in all areas of women's collegiate athletics including scholarships, facilities,

SARAH VAUGHAN, the "sassy" style singer who Tony Bennett has honored as "the finest singer in the world," will join Mercer Ellington and the Ellington Orchestra in a tribute to the late Duke Ellington tomorrow evening at the Mississippi River Festival.

Cite discrepancies in conduct of women's athletic programs

By MARY LOU MANNING

A field was taken from the women and given to the men: Southern Illinois University, Carbondale.

During a weekend last year, the women's swimming team left Urbana by car at 5:30 a.m. and, after traveling four hours, competed in a swimming meet. Because of inclement weather, the team decided to spend the night in Carbondale. In order to avoid lodging expenses, the women slept on a lounge floor in a dormitory: University of Illinois-Champaign-Urbana.

When the women travel, they are restricted in food allocations. This school year, their meal budget will be set at $5.50 per day as compared to the men's budget of $10.50. Western Illinois University, Macomb, Ill., also has a similar discrepancy between men and women athletic programs at state universities recently cited by a report compiled by the House Subcommittee on Higher Education.

Information for the report was gathered during a series of four hearings held throughout the state. It is purported to be the first report on the subject of women's athletics ever undertaken, according to Rep. Jack Beaupre, D-Bourbonnais, chairman of the subcommittee.

Representatives of nine state public universities appeared for testimony. However, Northern Illinois University along with most other junior colleges did not respond, and the intention to include the community colleges in the report was dropped.

Sexual discrepancies were found in all areas of women's collegiate athletics including scholarships, facilities, equipment, coaching, administration and publicity, according to the 106-page report.

For example it was found that in most cases, women athletes were assigned to rejected male facilities. Women's allowances for food generally ran around $4 per day. Although every institution had an athletic director, most often the office concerns itself solely with male activities. Usually, men's coaches are recruited while the women's coaches have been hired as physical education teachers.

Typical of the universities is Northern Illinois University, DeKalb, which offers 11 sports for men and 10 for women. Last year, the men received $205,261 from students fees for athletic scholarships; only the women received none. For intramural activities, the men received $27,000 in student fees and $8,786 in state appropriations while the women received $5,000 in student fees and $7,334 from state funds.

Lack of operating funds has adversely affected the women's program, according to the report. Women athletes have "suffered" in terms of restricted food and travel budgets. However, for the coming year, their food allocation will be increased to $7 per day.

The chairman of the Department of Physical Education for Women indicated that the women need additional help in terms of personnel. Specifically, she asked for additional coaches, graduate assistants, an athletic trainer and a part-time secretary. Assistant coaches are especially desired.

The women receive practically no funds for athletic scholarships. They used $936 for financial assistance. And even though women comprise 48 per cent of NIU's total enrollment, the men received 100 per cent of the $273,000 grant-in-aid money allotted the institution.

Jolly enlists in Air Force

Thomas H. Jolly, son of Mr. and Mrs. Claud Jolly, 2541 Ivy Lane, has enlisted in the Delayed Enlistment Program (DEP) in the U.S. Air Force, pending regular enlistment in the active duty Air Force.

He has enlisted in the inactive reserves, according to Sergeant George Habbert, Air Force recruiter for the Granite City area. The time spent in the reserves by Thomas Jolly will count towards longevity pay in the active Air Force.

He attended Granite City High School and graduated in June 1972. He has enlisted for the general career field and will receive basic military training at Lackland Air Force Base near San Antonio, Tex.

More information about enlistment in the United States Air Force may be obtained from Sergeant Habbert, 1204 Niedringhaus Ave., phone 876-5225.

Ed Baumann to give recital

Ed Baumann of Granite City will give his senior guitar recital at 8:15 p.m. Aug. 21 in Lovejoy Library auditorium, Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville. The public is invited, admission free.

The young guitarist will play two of his own compositions, Pavane and Sherine.

Baumann also will play Minuet in A minor by Bach; Prelude No. 4 by Villa-Lobos; three lute pieces from the renaissance, composer unknown, transcribed by Fergler; Dowland's Bells, Dowland-Poulton; Sarabande by Purcell and arranged by Behrend; Handel's Coral, arranged by Tarrega; Lagrima by Tarrega; Three Estudios by Sor; Romance, arranged by Jack Marshall, and Sarabande by Guitart by Poulenc.

The recital is being given in partial fulfillment of the requirements for the bachelor of music degree which Baumann expects to receive at Aug. 29 SIUE commencement exercises.

David L. Bartley Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. David L. Bartley Sr., 22 Lily Court, has enlisted in the Navy Recruiting Station in St. Louis. He is undergoing basic military training at the Recruit Training Center in Great Lakes, Ill.

GETTING READY FOR SCHOOL

NOW SHOWING - BOB KRAMER'S MARIONETTES

August 14 through August 24, Bob Kramer's Marionettes will present an enchanting puppet show titled, "School Days" to be shown eight times daily in the center mall. The puppet show centers around a lovable array of sea creatures who tell us that they actually originated learning long ago, since everyone knows that fish travel in schools. The show is full of music, singing, dancing, and delightful dialogue telling the audience that school isn't all work, it's a lot of fun, too. No Charge.

FUN - EXCITEMENT - BARGAINS

Starting now thru September 21 save all of your River Roads purchase receipts for our special sale. The sale will be held Tuesday, September 22, 1981. All items will be 50% off.
